TOWN SHOPPERS BUCKING TREND

by Mark Mudie

SOARING numbers are flocking to Cannock shopping centre, as the town centre was named as one of the best-performing in the region during the economic downturn.

Footfall in the town centre is up nearly eight per cent on last year while the vacancy rate is 12 per cent, much healthier than many of its Black Country counterparts. Cannock Shopping Centre manager Natal Chapman revealed 394,463 customers shopped there last month.

That figure was up from 365,533 people in January 2011 and Mrs Chapman said: "It's great to be getting so many people through the doors."

While spending was down by two per cent for the period, bosses are still encouraged by the figures as household budgets are being squeezed.

Out of 38 units at Cannock Shopping Centre just one is empty.

"Even walking around wider Cannock, there seems to be very few in the way of vacant units," Mrs Chapman added.

"It's good to see we are bucking the national trend and the national average."

Stafford also has a vacancy rate of 12 per cent, slightly worse than Lichfield's one in 10 shops standing empty.

Closures

Just two shops out of 38 at Stafford's Guildhall Shopping Centre are currently empty.

The West Midlands average is 16 per cent, according to figures released by the Local Data Company.

Nationally, one in seven shops on the UK's high streets stood empty in 2011, and further closures are expected this year.

The rise of internet shopping continues to be blamed for the decline of the traditional high street.

Matthew Hopkinson, director at the Local Data Company, said: "Town centres need to adapt to this changing environment if they are to survive and thrive."

The number of empty shops around Black Country town centres has got worse in the last year, with Dudley and West Bromwich the two worst in England for medium-sized towns with 29 per cent and 28 per cent of shops empty respectively.

Wolverhampton and Walsall are fifth and seventh in the top 10 large towns and cities with 27.3 per cent and 26.9 per cent of shops vacant.

Tax bill is frozen by standstill budget

CANNOCK Chase Council has put together a "standstill" budget for 2012-13 after consulting with residents on what services should be prioritised.

Council leader George Adamson said the proposed budget was a reflection of the current financial climate, with only a few minor improvements to services being put forward.

However, council tax is to be frozen for 2012-13, meaning no increase on the current level that residents pay for council services.

Figures released include estimates for 2013-14 and 2014-15, which show that a Local Enterprise Partnership scheme for business growth and new jobs will be cut from £35,000 to £24,000 in two years' time.

Charges

Also part of the budget is a proposal to suspend parking charges for the two Saturdays before Christmas, while town centre toilets may be installed.

Cabinet will also recommend the creation of a Town Centres Improvement Fund with an initial allocation of £300,000 for 2012-13.

Councillor Adamson said: "The proposed budget for 2012-13 is a standstill budget. This reflects the financial climate that local residents are currently experiencing."

From fryers to free flyers

A CANNOCK chippy is frying high after winning a free promotional campaign.

Bridgtown Chippy and Silly Sausage Cafe was picked out of the hat ahead of 60 other entrants in a Chronicle competition.

The North Street business will have 5,000 leaflets designed and printed for free and then distributed in a future edition.

Paul Jones, group distribution manager, said: "We wanted to offer the chance for local businesses to get something back."

Boiler repair pensioner's cold comfort

A VULNERABLE Hednesford pensioner was left without heating and hot water as temperatures plummeted.

Eighty-one year old Richard Dunckley first reported his boiler broken last Thursday but had to wait until Monday for a part to be delivered from Wolverhampton.

At the time of going to print, the faulty boiler hadn't been fully repaired, but Mr Dunckley's heating was finally working.

He believes Cannock Chase Council and housing contractor PH Jones should be giving priority to elderly council house residents during periods of such cold weather.

Ridiculous

Mr Dunckley, who suffers from angina and arthritis, lives alone and has limited mobility, said: "It's been such an ordeal."

The heating and hot water was off from Thursday until Monday and then failed again on Tuesday. He said he was told the necessary part needed to fix the boiler was being stored in Wolverhampton.

"It seemed ridiculous – it would have been quicker to go and get it myself," he said.

A council spokesman said: "The replacement part was fitted as soon as it became available on Monday February 6.

"We are aware there were intermittent faults reported later which has necessitated further parts being required."

Pedal power boost for trust

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley joined hundreds of cyclists for a charity bike ride in Cannock which raised more than £1,700.

The third annual Tour de Nock, a 45-mile ride through the Chase and Staffordshire, was held for The Hibbs Lupus Trust.

The Cannock charity is run by John Hibbs, who has organised and taken part in a variety of fundraising activities since his sister Viki was diagnosed with incurable immune system disease Lupus in 2008.

John said he was delighted with everyone's efforts.

"It far exceeded what we expected to raise," John said.

"Aidan chipped in with £400 for sponsorship and we were up 40 per cent on riders from last year's event, to 265, which is fantastic."

Joined

Mr Burley was supplied with a racing bike and cycle gear from Mammoth Lifestyle and Fitness of Stafford.

He was joined by Ian Kendrick, bar manager of the Cannock Conservative Club, on the tour, which was sponsored by Heath Hayes bike shop Cycle Shack.

Mr Burley said: "I would like to pay tribute to all of the riders and spectators who braved the cold to take part in this fantastic event.

"I had initially only intended to ride the 15 mile route, however having got caught up in the excitement of the day, I ended up riding the 40 mile course – which actually turned out to be 45 miles."

Talks over sick leave numbers at council

A CRACKDOWN on long-term sick leave has been launched by Cannock Chase Council, with a new team set to be appointed to assess workers' health.

Staff at the council were away ill for an average of 11 days in a year, a figure which bosses say is inflated by absentees who have been away for more than a month at a time. The authority is reviewing a contract with its occupational health service with a view to appointing a different provider.

The national annual average in the public sector is 9.1 days off sick, the Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development found.

Referred

Council leader George Adamson, said the authority was keen to build on improvements which saw average sickness absence cut from 12.8 days in 2009/10 to 10.99 days in 2010/11.

Employees on long-term sick are currently referred to an occupational health team based at a hospital in the county but Councillor Adamson revealed talks over a switch were under way.

"It's good to hear it is coming down but it is still too high," he said.

"We are looking at using a different provider, the one we have got at the moment is quite expensive and we want to get people back to work sooner," he added.

Parents say 'thank you'

MEDICAL staff have been praised for nursing a premature Hednesford baby back to health.

The parents of Mia Drew, who was born at 32 weeks, were told she may not survive. Mia weighed just 3lb 1oz when born, but a year later is thriving.

Parents Nicki and Rob have now issued a thank you to Stafford Hospital and handed over £400 to the special care baby unit.

GERMAN ELECTRIC HEATING IS THE ANSWER

This incredible heating could be the answer to help beat the ever increasing energy costs and amazingly, it is not, gas or oil, or solid fuel - but electric! It's clean, Simple to install, Powerful, Economical, and no more servicing costs - EVER! All you need is a normal electricity supply and a plug socket and NO standard tariff like economy seven.

In Germany, Austria, Eastern Europe and even America, more and more people are choosing to heat their homes and offices with this very special form of electric heating in preference to gas, oil, LPG or any other form of conventional central heating or economy seven.

Here in the Midlands more and more of our customers are making that same decision and when you see this incredible heating for yourself, you could be next!

The heating looks just like a conventional radiator, but STOP! It is very, very different!

Put simply, the clunky central heating boiler needing constant servicing and replacement parts isn't the only choice any more!

Now you can choose to heat your homes, offices, extensions or conservatories with this incredible German heating which provides individual control over every single room without the need for a central control or space to site a boiler. Now the boiler space can also become a storage area!

Installation takes minutes and running is completely clean, there is no danger of leakage, no holes through walls, no floorboards up and no tradesmen trundling around the house wielding pipe cutters, hammers, wrenches and dirty workboots. This incredible heating simply plugs in and that's it! Job Done! You can even do just one room or the whole house!

Benjamin Chambers

Sympathy for raider

A GRANDMOTHER who chased a masked gunman from her corner shop with a mop says she felt sorry for her attacker.

Murti Mall tackled Benjamin Chambers as he waved a gun in her face during an attempted raid at the Pop-Ins Pantry in Penkridge in August 2010.

Chambers, aged 20, of Bishops Wood, was locked up for six years after a jury found him guilty of attempted robbery and possession of an imitation firearm with intent to commit robbery. But Mrs Mall, aged 58, said she hoped the punishment would have a "positive impact". She said: "He's a young man who has done something stupid and in a way, I feel sorry for him. I hope prison is a lesson for him and he learns that he can't just try and take what he wants."

Mrs Mall said she was surprised to be given a £250 bravery award by Judge Mark Eades, who sentenced Chambers at Stafford crown court. She said: "I think he expected to push the bag in my face and that I would just fill it up with money for him."

Consultants' parking charges rise by 576pc

NURSES and doctors at Cannock Chase Hospital are being forced to pay huge increases in staff parking charges. Bills for consultants have risen 576 per cent while fees for nurses are up 350 per cent.

Workers such as porters have seen their daily outlay more than double.

A flat rate charge of £4.16 a month has been scrapped and replaced with a scale linked to pay grades, with the highest earners paying most to park at work.

Following a review of charges at Stafford and Cannock Chase hospitals, porters must pay £9.38 a month while nurses face monthly fees of £14.06.

Charges for higher grade nurses and junior doctors are £18.75 a month – an annual bill of £225, up from £49.92 – while consultants must find £28.13, or £337.56 a year. Middle grade doctors pay £23.44 a month.

The rises range from 125 per cent to 576 per cent.

Scale

Part-time staff working fewer than 23 hours a week, will receive a 50 per cent discount. They used to pay a flat rate of £2.08 a month.

Finance director Darren Cattell said the increases were part of a package to ease financial pressure on Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust.

He said: "The scale of monthly charges is graduated so that those who earn more will pay more each month. The aim is not only to raise money, but also to encourage more staff to find alternatives to driving."

He said there would be better bike sheds and motorcycle parking and the possibility of a new park and ride or car share scheme.

One nurse branded the changes "diabolical", adding: "A lot of us just can't afford it."

Widow tells why she is selling bed for charity

A WIDOW is selling her late husband's £2,000 orthopaedic bed to raise cash for a good cause.

Kathleen Elton was devastated by Ernest's death.

The 79,-year-old said the electrically-operated bed she bought for him after he suffered a stroke is a "constant reminder" of his final years.

The grandmother, of Blythfield Road, Brownhills, aims to make as much as possible from the sale before deciding which charity to support with the proceeds.

Mr Elton, a former statistician for an Oldbury steel firm who worked at the company for 40 years, was taken ill six years ago.

He died last July, a month after his 80th birthday, and would have celebrated his 58th wedding anniversary with Mrs Elton on Monday this week.

She said: "Ernest was a very good man, very kind, and very clever, too.

"He was laid back and only had one bad habit – he supported the Baggies!

"The bed is just a constant reminder and I want to sell it."

It cost £2,000 new, but Mrs Elton said she would welcome any reasonable offer. Anyone interested in buying it is asked to call 01543 453859.

Apprentice Melody's keeping score

Melody Hossaini presents the trophy to Brownhills School skipper Charlotte Drewett, watched by team-mates and judges Kevin Davis and John Westwood

GREAT Wyrley-educated Apprentice star Melody Hossaini was back on home turf to help judge a competition.

A total of 72 sixth-form pupils, split into nine teams, were given the task of thinking of ways to save failing companies and using the profits to support community projects.

Each group presented their idea to a panel of three judges, one of whom was 27-year-old businesswoman Ms Hossaini, who failed in her bid to get a top job with Sir Alan Sugar during last year's show.

The winning team were from Brownhills School, skippered by 17-year-old Charlotte Drewett. They planned to turn around a failing record company by bringing in young unemployed people and training them up.

The other judges were Kevin Davis, chief executive of The Vine Trust, and St Giles Hospice Walsall volunteer: John Westwood, and Charlotte's team included Ryan Kenny, Jemma Perkins, Holly Richards, Sarah Till, Gabriela Chalkia, Emmanuel Sibenke and Laura Day.

Fire DVD targeting women to join ranks

A GROUP of Cannock teenagers have produced a DVD to encourage more women to consider firefighting as a career.

The DVD explores the myths and reasons behind women not applying to be firefighters and is available to watch online at http://www.girlscanbefirefighters.co.uk/.

Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service co-ordinated the project, working with pupils from Cannock Chase High, Blake Valley Technology College and media company Born Communications, to produce the DVD.

Joanne Hammersley, Equality and Diversity Officer at Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service said: "Nationally, less than 10 per cent of all firefighter applications received are from women and Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service is keen to dispel myths and rumours about female firefighting opportunities.

"A group of girls aged 14-16 were tasked to produce a film that provided facts about the life of real women firefighters to hopefully encourage more females to consider a career in the fire and rescue service."

Crime spots are revealed

A TOTAL of 40 crimes were recorded in Hednesford during the month of December, new figures reveal.

Seven of those happened along the main stretch of Market Street. There were five reports of anti-social behaviour there and a further two violent crimes on or near the playing field area at Heath Street Mews.

In nearby Norton Canes, there were 43 recorded crimes. The highest number in one street was in Pool Avenue, where seven incidents were recorded.

There were two drugs offences, two reports of anti-social behaviour and one each of burglary, theft and criminal damage or arson.

Cash collected

Breast is best for mothers

MOTHERS are being given breast-feeding support at a group in Penkridge.

Informal weekly meetings held in Penkridge Children's Centre aim to educate new mothers on how to breast-feed and help to build up their confidence.

Mother-of-three Gemma Irving is one of the group's peer support workers. She said: "It comes down to whether the support is there. If you've got no-one around you who has breast-fed you are unlikely to do so yourself."

The Penkridge Breast Feeding Support Group was set up in partnership with doctors and health professionals who believe there are significant benefits.

Gemma added: "For every year you breast feed, the risk of breast cancer goes down by five per cent. For the child, there is less chance of obesity and a mother's immunity is passed down."

Meetings take place every Friday from 12.15-2.15pm at the Children's Centre at Princefield First School, Saxon Road.

They provide one-to-one help, a chat with other mothers and refreshments.

Call Gemma for more details on 07429 525355.

Scholarship up for grabs

STUDENTS can apply for a financial boost from the operators of the M6 Toll.

Midland Expressway Limited (MEL) has launched its Student Scholarship application process for the 2012/13 academic year.

MEL will be awarding 10 scholarships, each to the value of £2,000 to Staffordshire students who are going on to study mathematics, the sciences, technology or engineering to degree or equivalent level.

Applications close on Friday March 30 and forms can be downloaded from www.m6toll.co.uk

Subsidies plea

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley has urged the Prime Minister to reduce the amount of subsidy given to onshore wind turbines. He is one of 105 cross-party MPs to have written to David Cameron asking for amendments to the National Planning Policy Framework to help protect the rural landscape and heritage sites.

Readers rush to sign up for new E&S app

Reader Jamie Skelding is well 'appy

HUNDREDS of iPhone and iPad users have rushed to download the Express & Star's new digital newspaper app.

And you can join them with a week's free trial that offers full access to Britain's best-selling regional paper.

Once the free Express & Star app is downloaded from iTunes to an iPad or iPhone, users can flick through the pages of the most recent electronic edition .

Shortly after each newspaper is published, users get a pixel-perfect replica of the newspaper to view the latest news, sport and opinion, even when offline.

Warehouse worker Jamie Skelding, aged 31, has subscribed to get all the latest news via the app on his iPhone.

The father of two, of Rosehill, Willenhall, said: "I've been reading the Express & Star for as long as I can remember so it is great to get it with the app.

"I would fully recommend it. I'd give it 10 out of 10. It is like having the paper in your hand, so I wouldn't be without it now.

"You get all the information you want with every single page, including the TV."

Mr Skelding, who works at AF Blakemore and Sons, in Willenhall, has signed up for a monthly subscription.

"I love to read all the sport so it is ideal to keep up with the Wolves latest," he said.

Van driver Paul Powers, 54, of Marl Road, Netherton, subscribed to the app via the iPad he was given for Christmas.

"It is very good value and I have been very impressed. You can go on holiday and still get to read the paper via your iPad.

"I emailed an article to my brother which I knew he would like."

Subscribing via the iPad app costs £1.49 per week or £3.99 per month. The first week of access to downloads is free, giving you access to news, sport and opinion before committing. To find out more, go to www. expressandstar.com/app

Construction firms target of raids by metal thieves

METAL gear worth up to £250,000 worth of gear from construction firms across Staffordshire in the past year. Some scrap dealers have been accused of turning a blind eye.

By Shaun Jepson

Wheelbarrows, cabling, power tools and heavy-duty plant vehicles were among the haul taken by thieves looking to cash in on soaring scrap prices, it has been revealed.

And it was claimed unscrupulous scrap dealers had turned a blind eye to suspicious sellers by taking cash payments and not keeping proper records, a practice that could soon be banned.

Homes, hospitals, churches, schools and even temporary traffic lights have all been stripped of metal.

According to the new figures for 2011, about 15,000 tons of metal was stolen across the UK at a cost of £770 million.

Tools

Metal cables including copper, lead and zinc, are among the most common targets for thieves targeting construction sites, although cement mixers, generators and hand tools have also been taken.

Jonathan Bullock, owner of Rugeley-based ICAD Developments, said: "It's not unbeknown for people with grab wagons to come and just pick things up like compressors and plant vehicles. You can't even insure against this sort of thing and more often than not it isn't even worth claiming because the excess on the policy is so high."

Mr Bullock said his firm was targeted last summer when thieves struck and stole about £1,000 worth of metal while work was being carried out at the John Bamford Primary School in Rugeley.

"It has a knock-on effect on production," he said. "We have containers to lock things up in but they have been broken into before."

Staffordshire Police spokesman Sarah Davison said the force was targeting metal theft under Operation Amalgam.

Home Secretary Theresa May has outlined tougher measures to combat metal theft. Payments for scrap metal will be banned and penalties increased.

She said the Government would create a new criminal offence to prohibit cash payments when purchasing scrap metal and introduce unlimited penalties on those who break the law.

The measures were backed by Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley.

History group meeting

THE next meeting of the Norton Canes Historical Group takes place next Tuesday, February 14. The guest speaker, from the Chasewater Wildlife Group, will talk about how wildlife has been affected by the drainage of the pool and the dam work.

It takes place from 7pm at Norton Canes library in Burntwood Road. Admission is free.

Florist twins are the stalk of the town

Twins Jessica and Victoria Richards who both work at Lavender Florists

TWIN sisters are causing customers at a Penkridge florists to do a double take.

Jessica and Victoria Richards don't just share their looks – they have both chosen the same career in floristry and even work at the same shop.

The identical twins are causing confusion for customers at Lavender Florist in Clay Street.

The 23-year-olds from Willenhall admit they have left some shoppers more than a little bemused,

Victoria, who recently represented the UK at a worldwide floristry skills event and finished sixth against competitors from all over the world.

She won the medal of excellence at the WorldSkills event in London.

Victoria said: "One day I was making a bouquet for a customer out the back and Jess came down the stairs and asked if she could help him.

Confused

"He just looked confused and said 'I thought you already were'."

The sisters said they loved being florists and got into the trade after spending work experience at Pool Hayes Arts & Community School.

Jessica, who started working at the shop first, said: "It can be quite confusing for the customers who are only used to there being one of us.

"It's not strange for us because we were always together when growing up so it seems normal really."

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

SOME viewers complained about actors "mumbling" their lines in Birdsong (BBC1). This raises a fascinating point about diction on telly. How come no-one ever mumbles in the ads?

BUS drivers in Brighton and Hove have been ordered not to call female passengers "babe". They have also been warned that terms such as "love" or "darling" might cause offence.

This follows an isolated complaint from one lady/woman/female (delete if inappropriate) passenger who said the word "babe" was demeaning. Following this, a reader has been on the phone bending my ear about his status as an oppressed minority group (he is working class) and threatening terrible consequences if any bus driver dares to call him "sir". "I am not a sir," he rages. "I have never been knighted, nor expect to be knighted."

Dilemma. Like so many etiquette problems of our time, the issue of how to address each other is neither ageist nor sexist. It is classist.

DOWNTON Abbey has become an unexpected hit on the US public-service channel PBS.

Bless 'em. The Yanks probably think it's a documentary. Mind you, that Great British national treasure, historian Simon Schama, is trying to put them straight. He has described Downton as "a steaming, silvered tureen of snobbery".

Oh, come on, Schama. Get off the fence.

❐❐❐❐❐❐❐

AN AMERICAN pundit tried to explain the Downton appeal to Americans thus: "The class system is something completely alien to us."

Of course it is, dear boy. You had slavery instead.

❐❐❐❐❐❐❐

FROM Kidderminster comes news of romantic pensioner Geoff Wheale who is in despair after the Bird of Paradise plant he gave his wife, Stella, on their 10th wedding anniversary has flowered just once in 21 years.

I sympathise, having nurtured for many years a yucca plant which steadfastly refused to flower. We returned from a week in Devon to find the ground covered in glorious blossom, just as the last petal tumbled from the wretched plant.

❐❐❐❐❐❐❐

MORE readers' choices for their own funeral music. "The best funeral song," declares one, "is Going Underground by The Jam." Another writes: "As a Christian, I think it most apt to have Return to Sender."

"Bearing in mind the number of deadly sins I have committed," admits a third, "I think I would like my funeral music to be The Road to Hell by Chris Rea." But the strangest, and vaguely disturbing, offering comes from the reader who wants: "Rimsky-Korsakov's Flight of the Bumblebee, played by a 25-year-old female cellist wearing pea-green Lycra." Look, pal, this is a serious column, not Jim'll Fix It.

Peers debate 'shocking' escape

THE meticulously-planned escape of prisoner John Anslow, who is suspected of murdering a Staffordshire father, has been branded "shocking" in a debate at the House of Lords.

Anslow, who has been described as "dangerous" by police, is still at large after fa gang ambushed the prison van he was travelling in on its way to Stafford Crown Court from HMP Hewell, Redditch. The 31-year-old is charged with murdering Chasetown man Richard Deakin, aged 27.

In a debate in the Lords, Baroness Angela Smith urged ministers to re-examine the categorisation of prisoners.

"Can I ask the minister if he will look into this and make arrangements to assure himself that when prisoners are being transported the security category is double-checked or reassessed to minimise any risk to the public and staff?" she asked. Deputy Lords leader, Lord Tom McNally, said recommendations from the formal inquiry into the escape would determine what action would be taken.

He added he could not guarantee guards were always armed when transporting the most dangerous Category A prisoners but it was an issue for the inquiry. Four other Wolverhampton men have also been charged with murder.

Plotholders pledge to fight on in sheds row

ALLOTMENT holders near Rugeley have been told to apply for planning permission for their potting sheds or face enforcement action.

Angry growers say they are prepared to take their battle to Parliament rather that give in to council bosses who say the sheds spoil the visual amenity.

Jane Pallister, association chairman of the privately-owned allotment site in Armitage with Handsacre, said: "With a housing estate, car park and Rugeley power station on the horizon, one field cannot be held up as a blot on the landscape."

Plotholders on the site, next to the Plum Pudding pub say allotment holders in other parts of the country do not need planning permission and argue that they should not be treated any differently. The parish council had approved the sheds.

The site was quickly filled when local farmer Paul Boston set it up last March but council officers carrying out a survey in September took exception to the sheds erected and wrote to Mr Boston about their "cumulative impact" on the visual amenity.

Argue

The council says the traditional wooden huts are not suitable for green belt land next to the Trent and Mersey Canal conservation area. But the 105 plot-holders argue that a neighbouring allotment site, owned by the power station, has sheds.

Ms Pallister added: "We are working on our appeal – we are prepared to take this to the Secretary of State."

Councillor Alan White, district council cabinet member for development services, said: "We are still in negotiations with the landowner about submitting a planning application for the sheds on his land.

"As such, we have not issued an enforcement notice to date."

Delight as future of AONB group is secured

THE future of a group set up to fight for Cannock Chase has been secured until at least 2015.

Members of Cannock Chase Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty have reached an agreement with the Department for Environment Food and Rural Affairs (Defra) which will see the group funded for the next four years.

Those involved with the AONB say they are delighted by the news.

Defra, Cannock Chase, Lichfield district, South Staffordshire and Staffordshire county councils are all involved in the organisation's management.

Steve Preston, policy and sponsorship officer for Defra, said: "We're happy to continue to support the partnership over the next four years through the agreement."

Emma Beaman-Green, assistant Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty officer, said: "It is great that all the partners are so committed to the Cannock Chase Area.

"We take our responsibility of managing and protecting this stunning natural landscape very seriously and, with the agreement signed, we will be able to continue with this important job."

Model Laura looks to fly high

Laura Butterworth is appealing for sponsors in the Miss Intercontinental contest

A STUDENT from Cannock is set to fly high after winning a place in the finals of an international beauty contest.

Laura Butterworth was picked out by talent spotters for the Miss Intercontinental pageant when she attended The Clothes Show Live in Birmingham in December.

With dozens of girls selected to pose for a picture the 19-year-old never expected anything to come of it. Then a letter arrived at the teenager's home in Brownhills Road, Norton Canes, saying she had made a shortlist of 20 for the British finals in Manchester on April 8. If the Stafford College student wins the English title, she can look forward to contests in locations around the globe.

"I'm going to university in September to do nursing so I didn't expect this," Laura said. She needs to find £286 in sponsorship from a business or businesses to secure her place. Anyone who can help is asked to call 07954 550282.

Photos go on show at annual exhibition

A NATIONAL photography exhibition is being held in Cannock for the third year running.

The Bebington Salon of Photography will hold its presentation night and award ceremony at Mill Street Methodist Church hall this Saturday (February 11).

Cannock Photographic Society (CPS) will host the event, which is the opening night of the annual Bebington exhibition.

Now in its ninth year, the exhibition is part of the British Photographic Exhibition (BPE) circuit and is open to all residents of the UK.

Display

More than 3,000 entries were received this year, including some from member of CPS member Paul Reynolds, whose award-winning images will be on display.

A spokesman for CPS said: "Judged by five highly experienced and well known selectors, they have ended up with a stunning exhibition of the very best of British photography."

The exhibition will be on show at the CPS meeting rooms, opposite the Mill Street Morrisons supermarket, from 7.45pm.

Admission is £2.50.

How to help nesting birds

STAFFORDSHIRE Wildlife Trust is offering a hand to feathered friends during next week's National Nest Box Week.

Anyone buying a nest box from the charity's Wolseley Centre base before the end of February will receive a free nesting material holder, to help wild birds building their nests. The boxes and holders have been handmade by Ron Rock, who works in the centre at weekends.

Those who do not have space for a nest box can adopt one.

For details call Sam Pachner on 01889 880100 or visit the www.staffs-wildlife.org.uk website.

Quick to process

CANNOCK Chase Council takes eight days to process new benefit claims, according to new figures, making it the third quickest local authority in the country. The council is also second in the table for processing changes in benefit circumstances, which on average takes four days.

Bungalow bills boost from solar

ELECTRICITY bills for residents in Norton Canes could be reduced by £90 a year after an agreement to introduce solar panels on some council properties.

Thirty-eight bungalows in the village will have new PV panels introduced as part of a pilot scheme by Cannock Chase Council.

The scheme, initially agreed in July 2011, had been in some doubt after the Government's Feed in Tariffs project was scaled down.

British Gas had informed the council that its Rent a Roof scheme was no longer financially viable.

But at a cabinet meeting last week a revised agreement was approved with Strategic Energy Ltd, which will enable PV panels to be installed at the reduced rate of 16.8p per kilowatt, potentially offering a saving of £90 a year.

Councillor Frank Allen, leader of housing on Cannock Chase Council, said: "I am delighted to recommend a course of action which will rescue the scheme and ensure that residents living in the pilot scheme have the benefits of reduced electricity costs in the future."

Panels will be installed at properties in Jerome Road, Jerome Drive, Yew Tree Close and High Street.

Restaurant's launch night

A DOZEN jobs have been created with the opening of a new Indian restaurant in Cannock.

Spice Bazaar has taken over the premises formerly occupied by Fans Cantonese restaurant in Walsall Road, Bridgtown which closed in January 2010. The premises had remained vacant until being bought by Shohidul Islam. He spent £45,000 on revamping the interior of Spice Bazaar and the restaurant was officially opened last night (Wednesday).

A launch night was held for invited guests on Tuesday (February 7) including Cannock Chase Council chairman John Beddows. The restaurant will cater for 126 diners.

Power cut off

A POWER cut hit more than 2,000 homes and businesses in Rugeley on Tuesday night (February 7). Streets including Hislop Road and Heather Close were affected at around 7.30pm. Western Power Distribution restored power within 25 minutes.

Latest apprentices are sought

AN AWARD-WINNING Cannock firm was this week opening up its doors to unearth its next batch of young apprentices.

Construction and power systems distributor Finning, which was last year named best large employer in the West Midlands for its apprentice programme, staged an open day yesterday (Wednesday).

A minimum of 25 places are available for this year's apprenticeship scheme and the open day was being held as part of National Apprentice Week. The firm is the largest UK dealer of Caterpillar equipment and has a £1.5m apprentice training academy – rated outstanding by Ofsted – on Orbital Way.

Finning's head office is also based in Cannock and managing director Neil Dickinson said the apprentice scheme underpinned the overall business.

"The part young apprentices play in our business is an integral aspect of our culture here and many of our senior managers began their careers with Finning in this way," he said.

"As a global company, the opportunities presented to prospective engineers are plentiful and our commitment to training and development and to identifying future talent, means there are many choices of future career within Finning.

"Caterpillar is a global brand which is associated with a quality product range and we continually invest in the latest tooling so that the very best equipment is available to our young apprentices. Having a comprehensive and award-winning training programme is why I believe our Apprentices have the reputation for being the very best in the industry today."

Mamma Mia! Parents are delighted as baby thrives

THE parents of a premature baby who almost died at birth have said a big 'thank you' to the staff at Stafford Hospital who nursed her back to health. Mia Drew's family were warned she might not survive.

Little Mia was born a year ago at 32 weeks and weighed just 3lb 1oz. Now she is a thriving one-year-old and, in thanks, parents Nicki and Rob Drew, of Greenslade Grove, Hednesford, have handed over £400 to the special care baby unit where Mia spent the first three weeks of her life.

The money was raised through 31-year-old medical secretary Nicki's singing friends in the Cannock Wood and Gentleshaw Musical Society, who chose the baby unit as one of their beneficiaries because of the Drews' experience.

Sales office worker Rob, also 31, said: "Things were touch and go to begin with but thanks to the wonderful care she received, Mia has thrived and now, just over 12 months later, we have a perfectly healthy, wonderful little one-year-old girl.

"We can't thank Stafford Hospital enough and we are eternally grateful to the staff there.

"They are going through a tough time at the moment and we wanted to do something positive to support them."

Talent

He added: "It was wonderful to return and give them a cheque that will help to support the wonderful work they do."

He said his daughter was already showing signs of emulating her mother's talent for music.

"Mia's favourite thing at the moment is to bang a pair of drumsticks on anything she comes across," he said. "I'm sure she will join her mother one day in the music society."

Mia was born at 32 weeks just before Christmas 2010.

The society's next show, The Best Of British, will be held at the Prince of Wales Centre in Church Street, Cannock in May.

Firm powers to increase in its revenue

THE COMPANY that owns Rugeley Power Station has announced a three per cent rise in revenue to £13.7 million last year.

International Power said it was confident of deliver further growth this year driven by contributions from new power plants that became operational late last year.

Chairman Dirk Beeuwsaert said: "I am pleased to report that International Power delivered a strong performance in the first year following the Combination with GDF SUEZ Energy International."

He said the results for 2011 demonstrated the strength of the business's international portfolio, International Power's construction programme is also progressing well.

Operating income for 2011 was up nine per cent from the previous year, driven by a strong increase in North and Latin America.

Signed

Corporate costs, at £96m were 13 per cent lower than last year. Revenue in the UK and Europe decreased four per cent .

Performance at Rugeley and Saltend was lower following the roll-off of higher priced contracts signed prior to 2010. International Power said conditions in the UK market remained challenging.

The UK retail business supplying the commercial and industrial market had seen an increase of nine per cent in the volume of gas sold and a six per cent rise in electricity volume coupled with higher sales prices. The increase in revenue was largely been offset by increased commodity costs.

Students rewarded

CATERING students from South Staffordshire College's Cannock Campus have been recognised for their contribution to a civic ball. Cannock Chase District Council chairman John Beddows visited the college's Gordon's Restaurant to personally thank the 10 students who provided the catering for his fundraising 1940s-themed ball. The students were presented with certificates and vouchers for paint balling and Silver Blades ice rink.

Test of knowledge raises charity cash

Debbie Ringham (left) and Esther Cole with a selection of donated prizes at the quiz night

A CHARITY quiz night organised by a cancer survivor from Cheslyn Hay raised more than £2,000.

Debbie Ringham organised the event with her Esther Cole from Halesowen. It took place at Howley Grange Primary School, Halesowen on Saturday, January 28, where Esther is a teacher. The event saw 150 people in 27 teams test their brain power to compete for the winner's prize hamper. A silent auction and raffle were also held with Cancer Research UK and the British Heart Foundation benefiting. Debbie, a cancer survivor who works for Cancer Research UK, said: "It was a fantastic evening. We really appreciate the generosity of local companies who donated prizes, and everyone who made the evening such a success."

Esther said: "These are charities personally close to our hearts, and we wanted to show our support by raising as much money as we could."

Hope on shelved projects

TWO shelved projects in Cannock Chase could be revived with cash from a £15m Government handout.

Council chiefs are hopeful of receiving a seven-figure slice of the money, which was awarded to the West Midlands and Staffordshire for getting stalled schemes moving again.

Cannock Chase planners have submitted bids for the council-owned Mill Green site, off Eastern Way, and the privately-owned A5 site in Bridgtown, where a 60-bedroom Travelodge is planned. The money is aimed at supplying the infrastructure, such as roads, water supply, sewers, telecommunications and electrical grids in order to get projects moving.

Council leader George Adamson said: "The idea is to make these sites more attractive to developers.

"It would be brilliant for Cannock Chase if we did get the money we've bid for, it would bring more employment and prosperity to the area."

The grant has been given to the Greater Birmingham and Solihull Local Enterprise Partnership which Cannock Chase falls into. It will decide how the cash will be split.

A final decision on which projects will receive funding has yet to be taken and a deadline of February 24 has been set to submit entries,

The LEP's grant was awarded by the Growing Places Fund, set up to boost economic growth by secretaries of state Eric Pickles and Justine Greening and set to share £500m across 33 LEPs nationwide.

Work to start on homes scheme at pub car park

WORK to create a luxury housing estate on the site of a Rugeley pub car park could start next month.

JM Homes Ltd is to build nine two bedroom homes on the parking area outside the Prince of Wales pub, off Sheep Fair.

The scheme would reduce the number of parking spaces outside the pub from 56 to nine and Cannock Chase Council's planning control committee deferred the application in November for a site visit. The application was put back back again in January as they wanted the applicant to speak to pub bosses over acquiring more parking spaces.

Councillors have now unanimously agreed to the scheme, after hearing from JM Homes Ltd director Mark Fitzpatrick.

Concerns

At a meeting held at the council offices, in Beecroft Road, Mr Fitzpatrick said he hoped to start the work in March.

He said he had addressed councillors' concerns about a shortage in parking spaces – adding five more spots to the plans.

"We have managed to allocate two more spaces on site and we have talked with arboriculture specialists to keep all the trees on site," said Mr Fitzpatrick.

He added: "We have spoken to (pub owners) Punch Taverns and they are amenable to us having three more car park spaces."

The developers say the pub is happy to give up parking spaces as it already has enough. The decision was reached after a decline in trade.

PLAYTIME at a Great Wyrley nursery has become more fun thanks to new bikes, a sandpit and playhouse.

Moat Hall Nursery, based on the site of Moat Hall Primary in Johns Lane, caters for 52 children and they are relishing the new play equipment. Parents and friends of the school raised the cash.

Teacher Katie Chilman said: "We are grateful to the parent teacher association for their hard work."

Fears on planning changes

I AM increasingly concerned about Government planning reforms. They're right to talk about protecting Green Belts, national parks and Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty, but what about the 60 per cent of England's countryside that is none of these things?

For almost 20 years there has been a requirement that land that's been used before, ie brownfield land, should be developed on ahead of green fields. The Government proposes abandoning this policy, yet a report by the Campaign to Protect Rural England shows brownfield land supply is increasing.

Protecting the countryside and building on brownfield land go hand in hand.

I gather Ministers are considering the final changes to their planning policies. If something isn't done to change their plans, much of our countryside will be at risk. Readers can use the action at www.cpre.org.uk to write to their MP.

MP works hard to promote jobs

I AGREE entirely with your writer, Mr John Freeman (Letters, January 20) and would add that until Mr Cameron's full investigation into the Nazi stag party debacle, Mr Burley should be given the British benefit of innocent until proven guilty.

As far as I am concerned, and aware, at the present time, he was embarrassed by the antics of his companions.

Who hasn't been in such situations where one would like the floor to open up and swallow you because of someone else's behaviour at your dining table?

I believe that Mr Burley has worked hard and with great enthusiasm to serve his constituents and to promote jobs in our area.

He has put every effort into being our elected MP and deserves a chance to show us how sorry he is that he got caught up in such youthful high-jinks, just as Prince Harry did some time ago. Let him who is without sin, cast the first stone and remember to 'sin is human, to forgive divine'.

Can we not show some good spirit of reconciliation and forgiveness. Let's face it, we have had to do so throughout history.

Time to move on from Nazi episode

COME ON letters page can we now give this MP a break. Now it's not only vindictive but also old hat.

June Langley is quite right, nobody's perfect and that means us too. So Mr Burley went on a stag night out to France, how come it's splattered all over our papers and on TV five minutes later?

The war finished in 1945, 67 years ago and while we keep on about the terrible episode no-one moves one. I'm sure a good many readers like me would be relieved if the letters page had a happier content. Isn't life bad enough?

It's sad he had to lose his job as a good many said he was good at it – now we'll never know.

To Mr Burley, I do hope you get past this and soldier on. As for his £200.00 he claimed for one year's expenses. I'm sorry I haven't seen that bill, but there are thousands of so-called MPs doing just the same. We should check them all ove, eh? And maybe we won't have to pay all the tax we do?

Guide Dogs sum raised

ON behalf of the Burntwood, Cannock and Lichfield branch of the Guide Dogs for the Blind Association I would like to say thank you to the staff for their co-operation and all the people who so kindly donated to our fund raising collection held at Asda, Cannock on January 21.

The total amount raised was £427.60. If anyone is interested in helping GDBA with fund aising contact Pat on 01543 683937.

Should have made apologies and left

I AM not politically minded in anyway. To me this is a moral issue, something MP Burley's leader is always banging on to us about.

I keep hearing this word 'hindsight'. Mr Burley's crime was not the going to the stag do, but when he got there and saw what was happening he could have made his apologies and left.

A lot of people fled their countries to escape what the Nazis were doing. Think about them and what if it had been a member of your family – would you still feel the same way?

My behaviour has not always been impeccable but I would never do anything as stupid as that.

No such thing as fair rate of profit

PRESIDENT Obama has now joined our chorus of politicians in calling for fair and reasonable profits.

Cameron, Miliband, Sir Mervyn and church leaders are singing from the same hymn sheets. They fear the inevitable public backlash as the thirst for profit grows ever more unquenchable.

But there is no such thing as a fair rate of profit. The solution is for the wealth creating working class to own the means of the wealth that they alone create.

When get up and go has gone

I'M up, I'm eating, I'm out and about the doctor allowed me a few pints of stout.
The prognosis is good, everything will be okay,
I must go out walking at least once a day.
My friends all tell me my future is bright,
Some of them say I look a bit white.
I asked the doctor what it was I had,
He mentioned something said it was bad.
And it usually takes two out of three,
He can't understand why it didn't take me.
St Peter didn't want you, he changed his mind,
I'm sure the devil has enough of your kind.
You've had a warning now take my advice,
Some things I tell you won't be so nice.
Keep taking the pills you must watch your diet, early to bed, no more late nights.
And just to make sure you keep fit and bright,
I have to insist you pack in the smoke.
Cut back on the drink, eat plenty of bran,
Plenty of exercise and you'll be a new man.
Eat plenty of fruit, any kind you like,
It will not be long before you're back on your bike.
Your get up and go has got up and gone,
If you listen to me it won't be for long.
Lose the beer belly, you're much overweight,
You must stop eating cream buns and cake.
Do as I tell you, why not give it a try,
I can assure you you'll live till you die.

Get grin off to a tea

Visitor services assistant Sarah Challinor as Alice and White Rabbitt, alias museum services manager Annette French with visitor services officer Nicola Bannister, as the Mad Hatter

YOUNG photographers are being asked to smile like a Cheshire cat throughout the half-term week.

The Museum of Cannock Chase is hosting a photography competition as part of its Adventures in Wonderland week from February 13-17 between 11am and 4pm.

Youngsters are being urged to contribute photographs of themselves smiling which can be uploaded to the museum's Facebook page.

Councillor Christine Mitchell, Cannock Chase Council's culture and sport leader, said: "The Cheshire Cat grins from ear to ear so we want to feature some fantastic faces as part of this competition."

Neighbours fear pupils will 'shatter their peace'

HOUSEHOLDERS in a quiet cul-de-sac are objecting to plans to move a Hednesford school's entrance because they say children and traffic will shatter their peace.

By Harry Gottschalk

Staffordshire University Academy, the former Blake Valley Technology College, is undergoing a £9.7m revamp to include BMX track, four-court sports hall and new art and science facilities.

It also involves moving the entrance to the school, which has sparked anger among neighbours.

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson, says he wants to organise a meeting with county council planning chiefs after being told that every single resident in nearby Marina Crescent had objected to the proposed new access as it would mean hundreds of students walking through their road every day.

Quiet

He said: "It's just become an academy and I think the school needs to be a good neighbour. Marina Crescent only has around 10 houses and it is quiet. I think every single resident has written a letter against it."

The school is currently entered via Marston Road.

Councillor Adamson said hundreds of schoolchildren would shatter the peace that residents currently enjoyed.

He added: "Let them stay and enjoy the peace and quiet of their homes. It will totally ruin the area and it is not necessary."

Cannock Chase Council's planning officers say residents in Marina Crescent would not be able to park outside their own homes at peak times.

A county council spokesman said the application would be considered on March 1. She said: "We have received a number of comments during the consultation phase and they are currently being analysed."

The school was unavailable for comment.

The driveway approaching St Matthews Hospital, which closed in 1994

The St Matthews Hospital matron and nursing staff in 1925

The gateway to St Matthews Psychiatric Hospital

The dining hall is laid out ready for dinner at St Matthews

Looters had a field day when psychiatric hospital was closed

AFTER the Cannock Chase Colliery Company, by far the largest employer in the Burntwood area was the County Lunatic Asylum. Opened in 1864, it was in fact known from 1947 by its more politically correct name of St Matthews Psychiatric Hospital.

MEMORY LANE

by Ron Bradbury

The hospital had 1,302 beds but was virtually a village in its own right. It had its own fire engine, brewery, a church and a place for Catholics to worship – and the uniformed male nurses were almost like policeman.

It showed films, held dances and had workshops where patients could earn pocket money doing useful work. It even had its own burial ground with a tiny chapel.

Shock

Tickets were available for trusted patients to roam the grounds for exercise, and many helped out on the hospital's own farm. Parts of the building were used in the two World Wars to house injured soldiers, especially Dunkirk survivors who had no bodily injuries, but suffered from shock and stress.

One photo shows the matron and nursing staff of the time. The black bows were in honour of Queen Alexandra who had recently died. Another photo shows the dining room laid out ready for dinner. This room was also used for games, and was an excellent dance venue.

The hospital was approached via a gated entrance, past a lodge and down a sweeping drive to the splendid main entrance. Gardeners kept the grounds immaculate. For years many people in the Black Country and Birmingham area used to say in jest "You'll end up in Burntwood!" to someone who had done or said something silly, such was its fame.

But the Government of the day closed it down in 1965. Half drunk cups of tea were left on kitchen tables, and nurses' capes draped over the backs of chairs.

The looters had a field day, even stealing the beautiful arched metal windows frames from the upper floors, which were collectors' items. A housing development of 332 properties was built in its place.

The dining hall also made an excellent dance venue

Lifeline offered after wedding venue closes

Couple's shattered dreams

Marek and Tracey, who were planning a reception at Weston Hall

COUPLES set to tie the knot have been offered a lifeline by two Chase wedding venues. It follows the closure of Weston Hall.

A BRIDE-TO-BE'S wedding dream is in tatters following the mystery closure of Weston Hall – just 15 weeks before her big day.

Devastated Tracey Gray and her fiance Marek Burley face losing £7,500 in lost deposits. Tracey, a 37-year-old hairdresser, said: " I've waited a long time for this – we've been together for 10 years. I'm absolutely gutted."

She said had been aware of problems with the business when it closed for a week last October, adding: "We were assured by the new manager that he would honour our arrangements and £2,000 deposit."

She and service engineer Marek, also 37, of Carlton Close, Heath Hayes, are due to get married in May. Weston Hall owner Paul Reynolds was unavailable for comment.

Brides-to-be say they have lost thousands of pounds in cash deposits after booking the 16th century Stafford hotel for receptions. According to social website messages, it has closed down after being empty for two weeks.

Now the Civic Ballroom in Cannock and the Ramada Hotel in Bridgtown have been offered as alternative venues.

Mike Allsopp, who runs the Civic Ballroom in Beecroft Road, said: "When I think how badly let down people had been, it really upsets me. I've got a venue and I will try to accommodate anyone affected by the apparent demise of Weston Hall."

Mr Allsopp said the ballroom was often used for wedding receptions and parties, and could easily accommodate 200 people.

"It's a gorgeous venue and we would certainly look to negotiate a favourable deal," he said.

Businessman Fred Pritchard, who owns the Ramada, was also quick to offer his help.

"I hate to think of couples facing so much disappointment," he said. "We would be happy to help out at short notice if needed."

He said couples should contact the hotel manager John Oxford with their details and he would see what the hotel could do.

Mike Allsopp can be contacted on 07990 554459, for the Ramada call 01543 461361.

Make the great escape with teamwork challenge

A NATIONAL charity is urging firms to escape from it all by taking part in an event on Cannock Chase.

Marie Curie Cancer Care is urging companies to enter a team for the Great Escape Challenge and support The Big Build Appeal to create a brand new hospice for the West Midlands. The event takes place on Cannock Chase on May 19 and 20 and involves teams of four taking part in a number of physical challenges and exercises to test communication and team building skills.

Memory

Tasks will include hiking and biking as well as a canoeing exercise. A building challenge starts off the day and there will be memory and teamwork challenges, which became more difficult as the participants tire.

The winning team will be the team that works best together and thinks on its feet most effectively. All participants will then celebrate at the finish line with a Great Escape Challenge awards ceremony and party.

To enter a team or for more details, call 07872 423188.

Jack's the lad to help with soldier dad's fundraising

YOU might think the last thing a six-year-old boy would want to do is stand in a supermarket asking for donations. But Hednesford youngster Jack Sawyer has been doing just.

The kind-hearted youngster asked to help out with his dad's fundraising exploits.

Former RAF soldier Andy Sawyer is planning to take part in the Help for Heroes Big Battlefield Bike Ride – a 350-mile seven-day trip from Portsmouth to Dunkirk – in May and has so far raised £2,393 towards a target of £3,000.

Much of that is down to his generous son who has spent long hours standing on streets or in supermarkets collecting money.

Jack recently even took a day off from school, having been given special permission by his headmistress at Churchfields Primary School in Rugeley, so that he could take part in a collection at Asda in Stafford which raised £869.60.

His mum Maria said she was extremely proud of her thoughtful boy.

"It was his idea to help out as he said he wanted to keep helping the injured soldiers," Mrs Sawyer added.

"Jack often stands or sits for hours on end without complaining in the slightest about what he is doing.

Jack Sawyer, who has been helping his dad Andy collect money for Help for Heroes

Proud

"He enjoys it and fully understands why he is doing it and gets really excited about his collections.

"Needless to say, we are extremely proud of his efforts – his dad thinks it's unbelievable."

Mr Sawyer, who served in the RAF for seven years, took part in the Big Battlefield Bike Ride last year, raising £2,370 in total.

Jack will next be collecting at Sainsbury's in Cannock on February 11 and 12.

Following that a fundraising family fun day is being held at The Birds pub, Hednesford, on March 3, which will include music, entertainment, bouncy castle, face painting and a host of other activities.

Visit www.bmycharity.com/andysawyer for details on Andy's fundraising efforts, or email him at andy.sawyer35@sky.com

Library will play host to work event

BURNTWOOD library is hosting a special event to help people find employment.

There will also be a chance to learn about training and volunteer opportunities as well as sorting out finances.

The free Routes to Work event takes place at the library at Sankey's Corner on Tuesday, February 28 from 10am to 1pm.

The Citizens Advice Bureau, Staffordshire Young People's Service, Next Steps, the JobCentre, Lichfield District Council, South Staffs College, Care Match, the Credit Union, and Bromford Support will all be on hand for an informal chat.

Burntwood Library also has a regular Work Club which meets fortnightly on an Tuesday from 10am to noon. Call 01543 682447.

Half-term fun for children

LEISURE centres in Penkridge and Cheslyn Hay are hosting a week long programme of children's activities for youngsters during half-term. From February 13 to 17 children aged between five and 12 can take part in a number of fun activities as part of South Staffordshire Council's Sussed programme. Call 01785 714152 or 01922 417790.

Ex-farmer loses plea to use land for horse riding

A FORMER farmer and his wife have lost their bid to carry on using their land for riding and exercising up to 23 horses.

Alan Hulme had appealed against a decision which prevented him from using the field in Meg Lane in Burntwood for anything more than grazing.

Neighbours protested that the 59-year-old had installed fencing and sub-divided the field into individual paddocks which he rented out to horse owners.

Some had even sent video evidence to council bosses.

One householder complained of a manure trailer kept close to the rear of his home and of floodlights being used after dark.

He said that social gatherings were sometimes held in the summer months, causing a disturbance.

Deteriorated

Planning chiefs at Lichfield District Council heard how Mr Hulme had lived and farmed all of his life at Castle Farm where he used to keep sheep and cattle. But he lost the flock to Foot and Mouth Disease in 2001 and did not restock.

His health deteriorated and he was forced on medical grounds to sell his cattle. He and his wife decided to let the field to earn some money.

The Hulmes were given two months to clear the land but the inspector conceded this was too short a time and extended the period to four months.

Reading area is created

Family of Deeanna Gudgin including parents Sharon and Ray present the donation at the Special Needs Adventure Playground

A NEW reading area has been created at Cannock's Special Needs Adventure Playground after thousands was raised in memory of a 12-year-old schoolgirl.

More than £4,000 was collected for the Pye Green Road facility as a tribute to Deeanna Gudgin.

The youngster from Bloxwich, died in October following a battle with cancer. The Mary Elliott school pupil also suffered from a muscle wasting disease and used the playground for special needs children.

Relative Louise Brown, a solicitor, collected £4,100 during a presentation about the playground and Deeanna. Colleagues of Deeanna's father Ray at Walsall Pressings also raised more than £300.

Austen book club

LOVERS of Jane Austen novels can share their thoughts at a new club in Rugeley. The Jane Austen Book Club invites fans to chat about the author's characters, storylines, jokes and romance. The first meeting will be held to decide the order in which to read the six books and to discuss future dates. It takes place on Thursday, March 1 at the Wolseley Arms pub at Wolseley Bridge from 7.30pm. Call Kate on 07816 837966.

Pilot scheme to detect bowel cancer in young

CANNOCK Hospital is to pioneer a health initiative which targets early detection of bowel cancer among young people.

A specialist nurse has been appointed at Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust to identify high risk patients and diagnose younger patients at an earlier stage. The age criteria for screening currently stands at 60-years-old nationally. The scheme will also be rolled out at Stafford.

The trust will also be able to offer family genetic screening for bowel cancer for the first time. It has been introduced thanks to the fundraising efforts of Christine Woodward, of Rugeley, who set up the Martin Woodward Cancer Trust in memory of her late son. He died at the age of 36 in 2005, within a month of surgery.

The nursing post will be based primarily at Stafford Hospital, with clinics at Cannock and has been match funded by the Martin Woodward Cancer Trust and Macmillan Cancer Support.

Mrs Woodward said: "The launch of this project is the culmination of several years' hard work and we hope it will help prevent other families from experiencing what we have gone through."

"Martin died 23 days after surgery, from bowel cancer he did not know he had – early diagnosis could have saved his life.

Specialist nurse Sunitha Rajan said: "If all goes to plan, it will mean that the signs and symptoms of colorectal cancer in those aged 18-59 will be recognised more frequently both by the public and by GPs".

Praise on litter pick

VOLUNTEERS have been praised for a litter pick at a Rugeley beauty spot. Around 30 people braved the elements for the event organised by the Friends of Etching Hill. The next group meeting is on February 23 at the Church of the Holy Spirit, Mount Road with the speaker from the Friends of Cannock Chase.

REVELLERS can go back to the decade of leg warmers, mullets and shoulder pads at a fundraising night in Rugeley.

Ollys Bar, in Bow Street, is staging an 80s disco on Saturday, February 18, in aid of the British Heart Foundation. It starts at 7.30pm, with tickets, at £2.50, available either from the bar or from the British Heart Foundation charity shop in Brook Square.

£250,000 payout over injuries in bike crash

A POWER line worker has been paid £250,000 in compensation after a motorbike accident left him with an horrific knee injury.

Thomas Walker, from Stafford Road, Huntington, was thrown from his bike when a car pulled out of a side road into his path along the Chester Road, near Eccleshall, in August 2007.

The 30-year-old was flown by air ambulance to Stafford Hospital before being transferred to Cannock Chase for further treatment and on to Oswestry Hospital, which specialises in orthopaedic surgery.

He underwent an operation to repair his displaced and fractured knee, with surgeons inserting metal pins to hold the joint together. Mr Walker was unable to return to his job as an overhead linesman for almost five months.

Lawyers

He is no longer able to run more than 50 yards without suffering pain and cannot play football or go mountain biking.

Mr Walker rejected an initial cash offer, agreeing to the £250,000 out-of-court settlement after lengthy negotiations through his lawyers.The money represents lost earnings and compensation.

Gary Herbert, a serious injury specialist with Fentons Solicitors, said: "Thomas was in a lot of pain for a very long time, and still suffers with the after-effects. It was immediately clear that the earlier offer was low by any reasonable standards. He had been unable to work for almost a half a year, and the injury affected his everyday life."

Woman in loft fall

A WOMAN plunged from the loft of her Cannock home and became trapped on part of a ladder. The clip on the ladder pierced the 36-year-old's skin and she was taken to Stafford Hospital. Fire crews were called to Pye Green Road shortly after 7.30pm on Sunday (February 5).

Kitted out for new venture

Jean Johnson and her cat William at her home in Cannock Wood

A CAT lover has finally fulfilled an ambition she has held for the past three decades.

Jean Johnson has opened a cattery in the garden of her home in Hayfield Hill, Cannock Wood.

The purpose-built facility houses up to 22 cats in luxurious 'chalets' while their owners take a break.

Jean has five cats of her own as well as two donkeys, sheep, goats and rescue hens on her farm.

Building the cattery has taken just over a year since securing planning permission and Jean said: "I have been thinking about this for about 30 years but the time has never been right until now."

No 'miss' at schools

Front, Madeline Langston, aged five, Gracie Allport, five, and Jasmine Edwards, six, at St Luke's Primary

COMPLIMENTARY cinema tickets are up for grabs for children with a perfect school attendance record.

Youngsters were reminded how important it was to go to school every day with a number of schools involved in the Spotlight Attendance Week initiative.

Jane Roberts, head of St Luke's Primary, New Penkridge Road, said: "Schools across Cannock worked together to plan the spotlight week and the aim is 100 per cent attendance for every child.

"Parents received information leaflets about the importance of good attendance and the consequences of persistent absence."

Pupils gaining 100 per cent attendance during the week were being rewarded with certificates, attendance pencils as well as the cinema tickets.

Suspended jail stretch for benefit claim fraud

A CANNOCK benefit cheat has avoided an immediate jail term after admitting charges of dishonestly claiming from the taxpayer. Mark York claimed more than £16,000.

By Richard Woodall

York, of Dorchester House, cheated the taxpayer out of £16,525.01 between March 2005 and February 2011, Stafford magistrates heard.

He was living with his partner Carol – who is now his wife – but said he was living alone and was claiming jobseekers' allowance.

York was given an eight-week sentence suspended for one year and also ordered to undertake 300 hours of unpaid work and pay £100 in costs.

He had earlier pleaded guilty to a charge of making a false statement to obtain benefit.

Registered

Laura Culley, prosecuting, said forms completed by Carol York – who was not married to the defendant when the false payments started – showed she lived at the same address as York in Mount Street, Hednesford. This included forms from her employer Arriva.

"Evidence came to light that Mrs York had been using the defendant's address for some time," she said.

"Her car was also registered to the same address. The claim he made was on the basis that he had no source of income."

In a separate case, 32-year-old year Kirsty Beardshaw pleaded guilty to two offences of making false statements between October 2010 and July 2011.

She pleaded failed to notify a change in circumstances when partner Richard White moved into the property.

Beardshaw, of Hobart Road, Heath Hayes, received £5,303.05 in benefits she should not have received.

She was given a 12-month community order and 80 hours of unpaid work and must pay £100 costs.

Owls of delight at donation

Keeper Katie Smith with Treacle the tawny owl at Gentleshaw Bird of Prey Hospital

GENEROUS visitors to a Burntwood pet shop have donated their loose change to a Staffordshire wildlife centre.

Customers at Jackdaws in Morley Road, collected their coppers in a large tub. The 1ps and 2ps added up to £93.37 and the money was handed over to the Gentleshaw Bird of Prey Hospital and wildlife centre.

It will go towards the rescue and rehabilitation of injured wild birds of prey.

A Bird of Prey Hospital spokesman said: "Gentleshaw would like to say a huge thank you to Jackie and all of the staff and customers at Jackdaws for their kind and very welcome support."

New lotto scheme offers three prizes

TRADERS in Hednesford have re-launched the town's lottery scheme. The lottery will boost god causes and the revamped scheme has three prizes up for grabs instead of one.

By Harry Gottschalk

The previous lottery organised by traders ran into difficulties. Greengrocer Stef Cunningham, treasurer of Hednesford Traders Association 2011 is behind the launch of the new money-spinning scheme.

"The previous lottery just petered out because ticket sales were not good," she said.

"The new lottery will raise funds for charities and other good causes locally. There is huge scope for it.

"It will mean three prizes being on offer instead of one as previously.

"Raffle tickets will be available over a period of a month and once the draw is made 20 per cent of the funds will go to charity with the rest divided between three winners and then the costs of it."

The tickets are available from businesses in Hednesford and will soon be able to be purchased via a standing order.

Mrs Cunningham added: "We want to promote the town in a good way and through the lottery we are able to advertise it.

"On top of that, it's a good chance to win another few hundred quid. I thought it would be good to keep it going – it's for the benefit of local charities."

The previous scheme was halted for a month in May last year due to poor ticket sales, but it was resurrected and back up and running in June.

However, the Hednesford Shop Local Lottery as it was known, folded permanently in October when the former Traders' Association was brought to an end.

Line dancing follows lunch

A PLOUGHMAN'S lunch and line dance event will raise money for the My Heart in Cannock appeal. Chadsmoor Line Dancers, who meet each week at St Chad's church hall are putting the event tomorrow (Friday). The lunch takes place from 12.30-1.30pm, followed by a line dancing until 3.30pm. Tickets are £3 with the money being used to train up more cardiac nurses.

Chadsmoor Line Dancers meet every Friday at the church hall in Cannock Road.

Half-term opportunity to explore great outdoors

YOUNGSTERS can experience the delights of the natural world during half-term activities at Staffordshire Wildlife Trust.

A Wildplay programme for eight-to-13-year-olds is being run at the Wolseley Centre next Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday (February 14, 15 and 17), from 10am to 3pm.

Four to seven-year-olds will also be catered for with a special family session on Monday from 1.30pm to 3.30pm. Children should wear waterproofs and outdoor footwear and bring a packed lunch.

The sessions will include a variety of outdoor activities like bug-hunting, natural arts and crafts and den-building.

600 burglar alarms given out following crime spate

SIX hundred burglar alarms have been given out to householders across Cannock Chase. The move follows a series of break-ins affecting sheds and garages in the district.

Police have increased patrols across the district as part of a week-long initiative to raise awareness of possible criminal activity in the area. SmartWater, a liquid anti-theft system involving a code which can be read under ultraviolet light, is also being used in burglary hotspots. The technology has a 100 per cent conviction rate when used in court.

Staffordshire Police force has joined with Cannock Chase District Council in encouraging residents to secure their property by marking it and locking it.

The push is aimed at homeowners although allotment sites have been a regular target. Gardeners say metal thieves are often to blame as they search sheds for tools to sell for scrap.

Council leader George Adamson said: "This initiative will help people to protect their property and sends a clear message to would-be burglars to stay away. Local residents can increase their chances of not getting their personal possessions stolen if they mark them and lock them away."

Chief Inspector Carl Ratcliffe, commander of Cannock Chase District local policing team, said: "We are working hard to reduce all types of burglary.

"If anyone is offered property such as garden equipment, power tools or bicycles in unusual circumstances then I would urge them to contact us to check they are not stolen."

Nature plan at former colliery site is ruled out

COAL Authority bosses have poured cold water on plans for a 100-acre plot at the former Littleton Colliery, leaving the future of the land uncertain.

Suggestions for the site in Huntington have included creating a nature reserve, but that has now been ruled out.

South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson has been in talks with the Coal Authority to see if the land could be purchased by the council to prevent it falling into the hands of developers.

The former colliery is next to Shoal Hill Common, an area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, and it is hoped that the land can be used for the benefit of local residents.

Transfer

Mr Williamson has just received word from the Coal Authority that it is not looking to return the land to the district council but he has received confirmation that the authority is not looking to transfer the land to any private enterprise.

He said: "I think that everyone in the area can see the potential for this area to become an environmental safe haven, and I will continue to pursue this with the Coal Authority so that the area can be secured for generations to come and make this dream a reality."

John Delaney, a spokesman for the Coal Authority, said the land was being retained for operational reasons.

Building a profit

ST Modwen, the developers behind Hednesford's £50m regeneration scheme, have reported an increase in profits. Mike Herbert, the company's North Staffordshire regional director, said end of year results show a £50.4m profit.

Youngsters book in for National Libraries Day

LITTLE ones at a Cannock nursery have been leafing through new books as part of the first ever National Libraries Day.

Happy Tots, at Orbital Plaza, Bridgtown, uses the library to borrow a constant supply of books for the children to read and was happy to support the day last weekend.

Nursery manager Judy Kelly said: "It's important that children love books, as they can learn so much from them, and they help teach them about the world as well as develop their imagination. Our local library provides a constant source of reading pleasure for the little ones."

Checks on housing applicants

HOUSING applicants across Cannock Chase face police checks before being offered a tenancy.

Cannock Chase Council has agreed to introduce the checks for would-be tenants.

The move was agreed by the cabinet and will come into effect from April.

It will help the authority avoid housing someone who could otherwise be excluded from being allocated a property as a result of their past behaviour.

At present, applicants are subject to a police check if they disclose a criminal conviction on the form.

Housing boss Councillor Frank Allen said: "The council is committed to tackling anti-social behaviour on its housing estates."

Slim Tarnya keeps memory of inspirational sister alive

Tarnya Price before

A WOMAN lost four stone in a year after being inspired by her late sister and is now keeping her memory alive by educating others on losing weight.

After struggling with her weight for 15 years, Tarnya Price, aged 39, from Great Wyrley, was inspired by her sister to shed some pounds. She has now decided to share her success by running her own Weightwatchers classes.

Tarnya's sister, Julie Powers, also a Weightwatchers leader, was diagnosed with cancer at the beginning of last year and Tarnya gained three stone after admitting comfort eating. Julie lost her battle later that year at the age of 50.

Tarnya said: "Before, I know I would have simply piled all the weight back on through such a difficult time, but now it was different.

"I still continued to maintain my goal weight, even through the hardest times. I know what it feels like to be unhappy with your size and shape, and I know all the tricks you play on yourself to get by – but I've found a way to turn that around."

Tarnya admitted to being sceptical about the first Weightwatchers meeting she attended but was spurred on by her sister. She added: 'Julie said 'you'd be great at that.' She has been my inspiration."

On track

It was the Pro Points plan that Tarnya says kept her on track. She felt she could still eat all the food she enjoyed and after reaching her two stone goal, she continued with the plan.

Tarnya runs Weightwatchers meetings on Mondays at the Pye Green Community Centre, Tuesdays at the Avon Business and Leisure Centre , Avon Road, Cannock and Wednesdays at Landywood Primary School, Holly Lane, Great Wyrley. Call 07803 925696 for more information.

Enforced changes on buses

PART of Hednesford bus station is being closed as part of the £50m town centre redevelopment.

Arriva Midlands has announced new temporary departure points as a result of the closure in Victoria Street.

Buses leaving from Stand 1 will be services 25, 31, 32, 33, 70 and 837. From Stand 3 will be the Nos 26, 835 and 837 to Stafford, while from Stand 4 will leave buses No 31, 32, 33 to Rugeley via Main Road and 33A.

Keith Myatt communications manager, said: "We apologise to our customers for any inconvenience caused by the change to our routes which is clearly beyond our control."

Folk star to appear at new club venue

FOLK fans can enjoy the sounds of Dave Cartwright next week. He will be performing for the Chase Folk Club at its new venue at the Chase Inn, Brownhills on Friday, February 17.

The club was previously held at Five Ways Inn in Heath Hayes and its first night at the venue was January 27.

Tomorrow (Friday) is Singer's Night, while forthcoming acts include Allan Taylor on March 2, Gary and Vera plus the Jaywalkers on March 16 and Tony P and Matt T on March 23. For more details contact Barry Yates on 01543 271269 or 07855 800330.

What's in a name?

Paul Kmiolek whose number plate spells his surname

A WAREHOUSE worker from Hednesford has become the envy of his friends and colleagues after getting his own personal number plate – exactly as his surname is spelt.

Paul Kmiolek, 59, of Littleworth Road, has the registration KM10 LEK on his Ford Fiesta.

Mr Kmiolek, who works in a distribution centre in Tamworth, bought the number plate for £240. He said: "I am quite pleased with it – certainly my friends and family are impressed too and seemed to think it was a good idea.

"My surname is Polish – it's not a common name so I think it helped in terms of getting the exact letters on the number plate."

Health secretary snubs invitation

HEALTH Secretary Andrew Lansley has turned down an invitation by Cannock councillors to discuss the overnight closure of Stafford Hospital's A&E department.

By Mark Mudie

Council leader George Adamson said he was "staggered" after receiving a letter refusing the request, penned by junior minister Simon Burns.

The reply claims it would be "inappropriate" for Mr Lansley, who ordered a public inquiry into problems at Stafford, to "interfere".

The A&E department was closed from December 1 between 10pm and 8am amid staffing shortages.

Chief executive Lynn Hill-Tout said the hospital could not guarantee patient safety between those hours. She is hoping to re-open the department in mid-May.

Mr Burns's letter states: "I fully understand the council's desire to ensure the best possible health services for Cannock Chase residents and I understand this closure will be a source of concern for councillors.

"However, decisions such as this need to be taken by the NHS locally and it is not appropriate for ministers to interfere."

He adds: "I am assured the Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust's decision for overnight A&E closure was not made lightly."

Blasting the Government's stance, Councillor Adamson said: "This response is staggering.

"Mr Lansley himself ordered an inquiry into the running of Stafford Hospital when it suited him to make political capital."

Toddlers have bazaar time

HAMMERWICH Toddler Group is hosting a fundraising bazaar this weekend. It takes place at Burntwood Memorial Institute, in Rugeley Road, from 9am to 1pm on Saturday, February 11. Money raised will go towards the group's Diamond Jubilee party and a mini-Olympics day. The group has more than 65 children attending Wednesday sessions, from 10am to noon and from 1-3pm. For more details, call Suzanne on 01543 676388, Emma 07902218825 or email hammerwichptg@btinternet.com

Paedophile priest faces a long prison sentence

A ROMAN Catholic priest from a village near Rugeley who used his "revered" status to abuse vulnerable boys faces a lengthy jail term.

Alexander Bede Walsh targeted victims in the county and elsewhere for 18 years from the 1970s onwards.

He was found guilty of two serious sexual offences and 19 counts of indecent assault by a jury at Stoke-on-Trent Crown Court.

Remanding the 58-year-old paedophile into custody on Tuesday, Judge Paul Glenn said a long jail term was inevitable when he is sentenced next month.

The 10-day trial heard Walsh already had a conviction for possessing child pornography when he was arrested and interviewed in 2006 after two men contacted the police to claim they had been abused.

Believed

Further complainants, who had been subjected to "serial, predatory" abuse, came forward between 2008 and last year and they all gave evidence at the trial.

Walsh, of Church Lane, Abbots Bromley, was cleared of six charges.

Speaking after the case, Staffordshire officer Dc Tim Bailey said he believed there may be further victims who had yet to come forward.

The detective also praised the bravery of the men who gave evidence against Walsh.

Condemning the priest for forcing his victims into the witness box by pleading not guilty, Dc Bailey added: "He is supposed to be a man of the cloth but he has shown no compassion, no integrity and no humanity.

Lottery prize unclaimed

A £552 lottery prize is waiting to be claimed by one lucky Rugeley resident. The Rugeley Traders Association has said that nobody has claimed the December draw prize of the Rugeley Lotto. The winning number was 0330.

Trio celebrate stage role

Joel McFarlane,aged 12, Jessica Brown, 11, and, front, Toby Gretton, eight, of Burntwood, with TrEAD principal Graham Tudor, of Cannock

THREE students at a performing arts company have clinched parts in the UK tour of The King and I.

TrEAD members Toby Gretton, aged eight, Joel McFarlane, aged 12, and 11-year-old Jessica Brown will appear in the production at the Grand Theatre in Wolverhampton in March.

TrEAD meets on Tuesdays at Littleton Green Community School, Huntington and is run by Cannock-born West End star Graham Tudor and his wife Helen Noble.

Downpour puts Bower in jeopardy

LICHFIELD's historic Bower is under threat after a washout last year caused a financial crisis.

The annual spring bank holiday celebration, which has been running since the 12th century and pulls in visitors from across Staffordshire and the West Midlands, may come to an end in the year it marks the Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

Plans to shorten the processional route through the city centre to save cash are being opposed by some residents who have launched a petition against the move.

The Bower Committee is considering missing out Queen Street, Walsall Road, Sandford Street and Lower Sandford Street.

Organisers say it will significantly reduce the cost of policing and stewarding the event.

Last year's Bower, which cost £52,000 to stage, made an £18,000 loss after heavy rainfall reduced the turnout.

Chance for fun with flowerpots

YOUNGSTERS can celebrate the first signs of spring at a Lichfield museum next week.

The Samuel Johnson Birthplace, Breadmarket Street, is offering children the chance to create pots with unique flowers made from their own handprints.

The Fun Flowerpots activity is on Thursday (February 16) from 11am-2pm and costs £2. Call 01543 264972.

Trees boost for Jubilee

RUGELEY Lions are celebrating the Queen's Jubilee by planting free trees along the Trent and Mersey canal.

The Lions have recieved a free 420-tree pack from the Woodland Trust and has teamed up with the Inland Waterways Association for the initiative. They will be planted on Sunday (February 12). Meet at Bridge 66, at Leathermill Lane, from 10am.

Victoria Hodson of the Woodland Trust said: "We are delighted Rugeley Lions and Inland Waterways re using our free tree scheme."

Yet more jobs on way at engineers

Engineer Drew Hannaford welding the lining of ducting destined for a petro-chemical plant in Israel at FCS's factory in Hednesford

A HEDNESFORD engineering has more than doubled its workforce since a management buyout and is to create more jobs as it wins work around the world.

Fuel Conservation Services provides heat-resistant linings for kilns, furnaces and petro-chemical plants, helping firms save on their energy bills as well as carrying out servicing and repair work.

It is currently completing work for a petro-chemical plant in Israel, applying its concrete refractory surface to a series of metal fabrications.

And managing director Mike Myatt says he is preparing to send teams out to Belgium and Italy to work on two new projects.

The company has also won work further afield, including work on a special thermally-efficient roof for a new steel foundry in Bangladesh for a Chinese firm.

Since Mr Myatt completed the management buyout at FCS two years ago, the workforce has grown from 16 to nearly 40, while turnover has doubled from £1.4m to just over £3m.

"We are seeing further recruitment this year as well," said Mr Myatt. "We will be looking for two more senior staff and probably another eight to 10 for the workforce. that means taking on local people and providing training where it is needed.

Expertise

FCS, based at Anglesey business Park, Littleworth Road, has also opened a specialist operation in Sheffield and a sales office in South Wales, as well as acquiring the business and management team of Modern Refractories in late 2011 which has brought expertise in the application of refractory linings used on large-scale petro-chemical and power generation plants.

Half-term fun blooms

SNOWDROP-themed activities are on offer during the half-term break at a Lichfield museum.

Inspired by the Erasmus Darwin House plant of the month, children can make their own snowdrops, take part in drawing and colouring activities and learn all about the winter flowers with a fun facts trail.

The activities will take place from Thursday to Sunday, February 16-19 from noon-4pm.

Advice on looking after garden birds

CHILDREN can learn about the importance of looking after garden birds during half-term workshops in Cannock.

The workshops are running from Monday to Friday, February 13-17 at Pets At Home, at the Orbital Centre. They will explain the different needs of wild birds, how their diet should change with the seasons and which species most need our help and at what times. Every child that attends will receive a free gift and can enter a colour competition.

Store Manager Joanne Stephens said: "Our workshops are designed to help increase awareness of how to look after our feathered friends all year round."

Trader's boost for Nathan

Market trader Tracey Hollinshead with Nathan Massey, aged two, from Rugeley and his mother Amber

A MARKET trader from Wolverhampton has raised hundreds of pounds to help a disabled Rugeley toddler.

Two-year-old Nathan Massey has the rare genetic condition Lesch Nyhan Syndrome which means he is unable to walk or even hold his head up. His parents Amber and Michael Massey are hoping to raise £10,000 to buy a motorised wheelchair.

Tracey Hollinshead has been running her Tracey's Hardware stall in the market for 10 years and has raised more than £600 towards the appeal. She sold raffle tickets with a top prize of any items off her stall up to a value of £25.

Nathan's genetic condition, which mostly affects males, is thought to impact only one or two in two million. Children get kidney stones, they cannot control their muscles, and they develop an irresistible urge to try to hurt themselves.

Mrs Hollinshead, aged 42, of Birches Barn Road, Bradmore, said: "The motorised chair will give Nathan a bit independence."

Extra powers are handed to PCSOs

POLICE community support officers throughout Staffordshire are now able to seize drugs and alcohol as well as detain suspects following the granting of new powers.

By Richard Woodall

It will mean Staffordshire Police's 219 PCSOs having have 20 additional powers available to them – double the number they had previously.

PCSOs still do not have the power to make arrests, but police bosses have denied the move to give community support officers more powers is linked to the move to cut the number of serving police officers.

Disorder

Other new powers handed to the PCSOs include the ability to disperse groups and take under-16s home as well as issuing fixed penalty notices for disorder offences.

Current powers of PCSOs are limited to dealing with traffic offences, anti-social behaviour and underage drinking.

Assistant Chief Constable Julian Blazeby said: "I am keen to ensure that PCSOs have the right powers to do their job effectively and provide the best possible service to our communities.

"This will not fundamentally change the role – the distinction between officers and PCSOs will remain."

Consultation on complex

LOCAL businesses were this week invited to register their interest in running facilities at a £13m apartments complex for older people in Penkridge.

Work on the 82 flats and amenities on the site of the former Silverdene nursing home in Tildesley Close could begin as early as May if South Staffordshire planners give the go-ahead. A consultation event was taking place last night (Wednesday) for businesses interested in running facilities at the complex.

Watch out boys! The girls can propose in leap year

ANY woman in a long-term relationship knows the feeling. Your birthday comes and goes, Valentine's Day passes without incident and then Christmas crops up and nothing, nada, zilch.

Yep, waiting for your so-relaxed-he's-almost-horizontal boyfriend to pop the question can be frustrating. But fear not ladies, 2012 is a leap year and you know what that means – we get to go down on one knee and make the proposal for a change.

The custom dates back thousands of years, empowering women to ask the most important question in any couple's relationship. Traditionalists believe the deed can only be done on February 29 but more and more women are seizing the opportunity throughout the whole month.

Would you do me the honour? Ladies can get down on one knee and show those chaps how to do the ring thing in a leap year

Yearning

But, as with everything, it's all about location, location, location. Luckily, there are a few brave souls out there who have paved the way first to give us inspiration. Music festivals, football matches, golf courses and over the sound system of a train station have all been done before. But nothing is going to send a shy guy running for the hills quite like a huge, attention-grabbing proposal. In the privacy of your own home, his favourite walking spot or a low-key intimate restaurant are more suitable locations if your partner is more reserved.

The leap year legend itself dates back to the fifth century after St Bridget complained to St Patrick that women were having to wait too long for a man to propose. St Patrick agreed that yearning females could be allowed one day in February, during a leap year, to do their stuff. He also decreed – and this is the best bit – that if turned down, the woman should extract a fine from the man or be given a beautiful garment of some kind. A win-win situation I think you'll agree.

These days, nine per cent of proposals are from women to men – with 80 per cent of men saying they would accept a proposal from a woman. Once a rarity, girlie proposals are now much more commonplace, thanks in part to the efforts of Monica in Friends and Miranda in Sex and the City.

This year, more than 700,000 women nationwide are due to pop the question. But there are still more than a few pitfalls to consider. First of all, do you get down on one knee? Jodi Goldman, a relationship expert with motivational training organisation Learnpurple thinks not.

"It's usually inadvisable for women to get down on one knee," she says. "It makes it doubly embarrassing if the man then says no, and, anyway, they are likely to be distracted by your cleavage when you're in that position."

The real pressure comes from holding your nerve though. No more slowing to a crawl whenever the pair of you pass a jewellery shop, it's time to take matters into your own hands.

Good luck!

US reporter holds key in sombre tale

AN American journalist learns that the Paris apartment owned by her husband once belonged to a Jewish family, sent to a concentration camp by the French authorities in the 1940s, in the moving Sarah's Key (12).

Then she discovers the shocking story of the girl Sarah locking her brother in a cupboard to hide him, and her determination to escape to release him.

This sombre film, with dialogue in French and English, tells the heartbreaking story of Sarah in flashback as the magazine writer, played by Kirstin Scott Thomas, delves deeper into the murky days of collaboration. It features a superb performance from Melusine Mayance as the young Sarah.

I would have liked more of Sarah's story and less of the journalist's family troubles. Sarah's Key is available on DVD and Blu-ray.

Glamorous Margi is looking forward to being Nana Gaga

DUBBED the 'Queen of Liverpool' by Sex Pistols manager Malcolm McLaren, actress and TV presenter Margi Clarke is looking forward to letting rip about the menopause and men when the Hormonal Housewives tour comes to the West Midlands.

A blonde bombshell from the Merseyside punk scene, Margi exploded onto TV screens in the 1980s on such youth shows as The Tube and The Word, starred in the films Letter to Brezhnev and Blonde Fist, and was Queenie in factory-set TV drama Making Out. More recently, she played Tyrone's mother Jackie Dobbs in Coronation Street, Joan in Family Affairs, caused mayhem on the costa in Benidorm, and was a trendy motorbike riding grandmother in Waterloo Road.

The last role particulary appealed to Margi. Mother to a teenaged daughter and a settled adult son, she said: "I can't wait until I am a grandmother in real life. Can you imagine it? I'd be Nana Gaga!"

Signing on

Once as famous for her glamorous look as her Mersey motormouth, Margi says the transition from glam girl to potential gran is a relief. "I am 58 and I feel I am above the game now.

"I have put the stilettoes away. It is a liberation of sorts."

She revealed: "A lot of people think because you have some level of fame that you must be rich. I was signing on the dole last November." Now she is relishing a tour of the country with two other actresses, having stepped in to replace fellow Coronation Street actress Beverley Callard, who was forced to pull out due to ill health. Her co-stars are Kay Purcell, from Tracy Beaker and Emmerdale, and comedienne Laura Checkley.

"Watch out, there's three crazy ladies coming to your town," said Margi.

"Men are invited too, I love men, no need for them to be afraid. Our show is lots of fun. Women used to get together and go to the bingo hall, now they're going to the theatre. I think that's an evolution and it's great."

Hormonal Housewives, written by husband and wife team Julie Coombe and John McIsaac, is at Birmingham New Alexandra Theatre on March 13 and Lichfield Garrick in castle Dyake on April 17 and 18.

Karaoke on the move for gamers

KARAOKE video game fans can take their singalong fun on the move with Just Sing Vol 2 for the Nintendo DS.

Success in the singing games allows you to unlock extra outfits for your avatar. The microphone allows the game to judge your peformance and you get an a cappella playback of your attempt to match Lady Gaga, or whoever.

But there are no music videos and a 20 track selection is small, even though it does benefit from selections by Gaga, Rihanna and Owl City.

Get Up And Dance aims to blend Nintendo Wii dance fun with a fitness option involving regular dancing in front of the telly. You would have to be pretty dedicated to make a major impression on your wobbly bits but it is more fun than jogging.

Featuring the video to the selected song seems a good idea but having your avatar bouncing around in front of it can be irritating.

Pictures are put in spotlight

CHASE TERRACE LADIES

MEMBERS enjoyed a brainstorming session on photography with Julian Chadwick of Starlight Photographic Services.

He asked if anyone still used a camera which takes film. Gail said she liked to have the pictures in her hand to look at any time she wanted and that she also thought the quality of the print was better.

The ladies had been asked to bring in photographs they had taken so Julian could give tips on getting the best results. One of the most common problems is red eye which is caused when the flash is too close to the lens. One solution can be to simply switch off the flash and use the camera in manual mode.

Alternatively Julian suggested covering the flash with a small piece of wax paper or other material.

Julian has a shop at 5-7 High Street, Brownhills.

The starlightphotography.co.uk website gives information about the various services on offer including restoring old photos and transferring old cine film and VHS film on to DVD.

Refreshments followed and Margaret won the raffle.

The next meeting is on February 16. Roger Timbrell from Wolverhampton will give a talk entitled: "Give us a smile".

From the football pitch to the church

Rev Peter Hart with Soroptimist president Eileen Cryer

CANNOCK & DISTRICT SOROPTIMISTS

REV Peter Hart, Vicar of St Luke's, Cannock, was the Soroptimist's first speaker of 2012 when he and his wife Liz went along to the January meeting.

He spoke to a large number of club members and guests, telling them how his life had moved from professional footballer to priest. He moved to St Luke's in September 2003 after six years at St Martin's, Walsall.

His talk was honest, open, touching and, at times, very humorous and Carole Holdcroft, on behalf of members, thanked Mr Hart for sharing his story with them. The club's charity concert in aid of Midland Air Ambulance and Cannock Friends of St Giles will be at the church on March 16 at 7.30pm featuring Cannock Chase Orpheus Male Choir. Tickets are £7.50 from the parish office or from president Eileen Cryer on 01543 503375.

Warmed up by wine tasting

HAYES GREEN WI

PRESIDENT Sandy Hobbs welcomed members on a cold February evening.

Mrs Hobbs read details of our forthcoming events and "thank-you" letters from guests who attended the Christmas party from the Heathside group.

She then introduced the speaker Ken Marshall, whose talk was entitled "wine from the hedgerows."

Ladies were provided with tasting glasses and invited to sample four very different but interesting wines. The talk was interspersed with humorous anecdotes, and they all learned quite a number of facts about wine tasting. June Pickerill gave the vote of thanks.

The competition "A Fancy Bottle " was won by Elaine, Eva and Pat. The raffle was won by Marion.

The annual jumble sale will be at Bourne Methodist Church Hall on April 14.

Back to the 80s with mania show

FLUORESCENT leg warmers and ra-ra skirts will be the order day at an 80s Mania show at the Lichfield Garrick on Saturday, February 11.

More than 35 hits from the decade will be fondly remembered with Top of the Pops and Radio One presenter Mike Read the virtual host.

Songs by 80s legends Madona, Adam Ant, The Human League, Duran Duran, Cyndi Lauper, Boy George, A-Ha and Kim Wilde will be performed.

Tickets are £19.50. Visit www.lichfieldgarrick.com or call 01543 412121.

City hosts Jekyll and Hyde drama

THE DRAMA of the final hour of Dr Jekyll's life will be brought to the stage in a one-man play at the Lichfield Garrick.

The doctor bares all about his experiments and the true nature of the evil that he has awakened.

The Strange Case of Dr Jekyll will be performed in the Garrick's studio cabaret on Friday February 10 from 8pm.

Tickets cost from £8 and can be booked from www.lichfieldgarrick.com, or by calling the box office on 01543 412121.

70th anniversary

BIRMINGHAM Philharmonic Orchestra celebrates its 70th birthday at Lichfield Cathedral on February 18 from 7.30pm. For tickets, call in at Lichfield Cathedral Bookshop at No. 9 The Close or call 01543 306150.

Your chance to win pair of rock 'n' roll concert tickets

ROCK 'N' ROLL comes to Heath Hayes next week in the form of cabaret show Brillcream and Rockin' Dreams.

A nostalgic trip back to the dance halls and jukebox music from the 1950s and 60s is promised in a two and a half hour show at Heath Hayes Constitutional Club, Hednesford Road on Friday, February 17.

It will feature hits from the likes of Eddie Cochran, Billy Fury, Brenda Lee, Elvis, Cliff & The Shadows and Bill Haley.

Midlands rock 'n' roll duo The Fabulous Hubcaps will be joined by Linda Mae and Johnny Crossley in what has been labelled as a colourful, fast-moving performance.

A spokesman for the group said: "With many costumes changes, accompanied by excellent sound and lighting, the show guarantees a hand-clapping, foot-stomping evening of pure rock 'n' roll fun."

Artists

The Chronicle has two pairs of tickets for the 8.30pm show. To stand a chance of winning, just tell us the stage names of these artists who will be appearing in the show. a): Ronald Wycherley; b) Concetta Rosa Maria Franconero; c) Jiles Perry Richardson.

Send your answers, on a postcard, with your name, address and daytime telphone number to: Brillcream Competition, Cannock & Rugeley Chronicle, 51-53 Queen Street, Wolverhampton, WV1 1ES. Closing date is Wednesday, February 15. Winners will be notified and the tickets left on the door on the night.

To buy tickets, at £5, call 01543 279418.

Home date as Guile play at Tackeroo

CANNOCK rockers Guile will take the stage at a Hednesford pub tomorrow night (Friday).

The four-piece have carved a fearsome live reputation and have earned support slots for The Boxer Rebellion, We Are Scientists, Scott Matthews, The Warlocks and Detroit Social Club. Tickets for their gig, which takes place at the Tackeroo on Bracken Close, Brindley Heath cost £5.

They will be supported by close friends and fellow local band Corelli as well as newcomers Shallow.

The following night the Tackeroo will host a Simple Minds tribute band, with tickets also costing £5.

Call the venue on 01543 423124.

Medium Stephen Holbrook has Cannock date on February 21

Top medium Holbrook in Ramada date

ONE of the country's leading clairaudient mediums Stephen Holbrook returns to Cannock later this month.

Holbrook's 2012 nationwide tour will take him to towns and cities across the UK, and after a successful tour of the USA and the Caribbean, he is looking forward to being back at 'home'.

The Cannock date is at the Ramada Hotel, Orbital Plaza, on Tuesday, February 21. Doors open at 7pm for a 7.30pm start. Tickets are priced at £16 from 01924 256542, or on the door.

There will be a collection on the night for PACT, a charity that helps children across the UK with terminal cancer. So far more than £15,500 has been raised.

Holbrook has a down-to-earth, sympathetic approach towards his mediumship, and promises an emotional roller-coaster ride for his audiences, always full of laughter and tears.

In the past he has helped the police on a murder investigation and explains all about his life in three biographies 'Light in the Darkness', 'Out of this World', and the latest,'Survival'.

Deaf star performs at theatre

INTERNATIONALLY renowned percussionist Dame Evelyn Glennie is performing at the Lichfield Garrick tomorrow night (Friday).

Despite being profoundly deaf, Dame Glennis has become the world's first full-time solo percussionist and also gives motivational speeches on her experiences.

A Lichfield Garrick spokesman said: "Discovering the body as one huge ear was just the beginning for this global celebrity.

"For the first time, Evelyn will talk to the audience about her career and influences and will illustrate her talk by playing a small selection of her percussion instruments.

"There will also be an opportunity to ask questions during the evening."

Tickets are £18 for adults and £15 for students.

Book online at www.lichfieldgarrick.com or call 01543 412121.

Tribute act's lead is a killer Queen

TOP Queen covers band She Will Rock You are sure to attract a big crowd at the Fern and Fallow pub in Cannock next week.

Stacy Green is the star of the country's only female-fronted Queen tribute act, who will play at the Stafford Road pub next Thursday (February 16).

Doors open at 8.30pm and entry costs £5.

Veteran actor excels as an elderly grump

On Golden Pond, Grand Theatre, Wolverhampton

THE grumpy old man's dry sense of humour, eccentric ways and obsession with death could not stop you liking him.

The 84-year-old actor played the part so well it was difficult to believe that he was actually acting.

On Golden Pond, which packed Wolverhampton's Grand Theatre last week, was quite charming. An old man celebrating his 80th birthday had has his heart won over by a teenager who taught him to enjoy life again as they enjoyed fishing trips.

The role of Norman Thayer Jnr was played by Richard Johnson, absolutely believable as the restless old man who had obviously had a strained relationship with only daughter Chelsea, played by Goodnight Sweetheart and Casualty actress Elizabeth Carling. Her fiance was played by Walsall actor Tom Roberts

With Hollywood actress and former I'm a Celebrity . . .star Stephanie Powers, as Johnson's wife Ethel, the play ran through the themes of growing old, memories, and the chance of reconciliation even so late in life.

The classic film of On Golden Pond, starring Katharine Hepburn and Henry Fonda won three Academy Awards. This production is definitely a winner too.

Nostalgia still sounds fresh 25 years on

That'll Be The Day, Grand Theatre, Wolverhampton

THIS roller-coaster ride of popular music from the 50s to the 70s performed by 11 multi-talented singers, dancers and musicians still has the ability to come up fresh every time after more than 25 years on the circuit. This high quality production had the Grand audience singing and clapping along to this fantastic feel good show.

Singers get an ovation

Beyond The Barricade, Wolverhampton Grand

VIRTUALLY filling the Grand Theatre, Beyond The Barricade again produced an exhilarating evening of powerful and tender songs from the musicals of recent years.

This group of four past principle singers of West End shows were simply in a class of their own for their versatile talent and deliverance of spine-tingling vocals. Their voices blended together superbly.

Songs from Phantom, Miss Saigon,The Lion King, Blood Brothers, Chess and Jersey Boys were just a few of those featured. David Fawcett's cheerful joking and introductions went down a treat. Finishing with the powerful songs from Les Miserables, the audience were on their feet showing their appreciation.

Sabre's sharp

Maverick Sabre - Lonely Are The Brave

This young Irishman's urban soul-rap sound will probably take him on a Plan B trajectory from the streets to the charts. His vocal may be too mannered for some but more will take to him.

Highlights on this debut album include Let Me Go with its swaggering brassy motif, No One and Stax shimmer of I Can Never Be.

Sabre is at Birmingham HMV Institute on March 6.

WINTER WIPEOUT

BBC1, 6.15pm

Amanda Byram has had a lot on her plate in recent weeks. She's been promoting the benefits of outdoor exercise with British Military Fitness, prepping for a thousand-mile Sport Relief race, fronting new Sky show Don't Stop Me Now, and, alongside Richard Hammond, is one of the regular presenting team on this series. So, the obvious question is: has she ever had a go at the course herself? 'Erm no, because I'm so competitive I'm afraid I'll be rubbish!' she laughs. In this edition, a magician and a trio dubbed 'the Don Squad' tackle the winter-themed obstacle course.

DANCING ON ICE
ITV1, 6.30pm

A fortnight ago, the Dancing on Ice celebrities took to the rink for a series of skating "duels," with the winners gaining immunity from the public vote. But this week, the contestants are more likely to be sending each other admiring glances and air kisses than pretending to be challenging each other to a fight on the ice. That's because it's a Valentine's themed-episode, and love is definitely air. However, the remaining couples shouldn't let the romantic atmosphere dull their competitive edge, because judges Louie Spence, Robin Cousins and Katarina Witt will still be scoring their efforts, and the public will still be voting to save their favourites.

Top property guide for Cannock, Penkridge, Heath Hayes, Rugeley, Hednesford, Great Wyrley, Cheslyn Hay and Burntwood

Detached cottage complete with its own bar is on market for £359,950

The cottage is on the market for offers based on £359,950. Contact estate agent Bartlams for more information

An extensive area of lawn to the rear of this property in Gailey, ideal for Cannock and Wolverhampton

A DETACHED cottage property fronting the A449 some six miles outside Cannock is on the market with a guide price of around £359,950 – complete with its own bar.

The Smallholding in Wolverhampton Road, Gailey, sits in grounds of around one acre and is ideally positioned for commuting north into Staffordshire, westwards to Telford and also for the West Midlands conurbation thanks to its close proximity to the A5, M6 and M54.

On the accommodation front notable features include three separate living rooms served by an impressively equipped breakfast kitchen, utility and fitted cloakroom, three bedrooms with fitted wardrobes and contemporary-style bathroom.

The property also benefits from gas fired central heating and double glazed windows as detailed.

The grounds consist of an attractively landscaped formal garden next to the cottage plus additional lawned areas and block-paved courtyard with access to garages, outbuildings and generous parking facilities.

On the ground floor the dining room, 12ft by 12ft 1in, has a marble fireplace with classical-style surround, while the lounge is 11ft 10in by 11ft 7in – and there is an inner lobby with access to a cellar.

Alcove

The sitting room is 12ft square with a period-style cast-iron fireplace with tiled inserts and timber surround, opening to an alcove bar witted with shelving and a copper counter, while the cloakroom has a white suite comprising vanity unit and low-flush WC.

The breakfast kitchen, 12ft 4in by 11ft 3in, has an extensive range of white panelled floor-based cupboards with laminated work surfaces, inset one and a half bowl stainless steel sink unit, wall mounted cupboards and display shelving, fitted extractor canopy above cooker space, peninsular breakfast bar and plumbing for automatic washing machine and dishwasher.

The utility/laundry measures 11ft 7in by 8ft 1in and has co-ordinating floor-based cupboards, laminated work surfaces and inset stainless steel sink unit and plumbing for automatic washing machine.

On the first floor are three bedrooms and a bathroom with white suite in contemporary style with whirlpool bath with wall mounted shower, vanity unit and low-level WC.

Outside electrically-operated gates open onto an extensive block-paved courtyard with generous parking and access to a double-width garage, a double length garage with workshop and double gates to further parking/storage.

Adjoining the rear elevation of the cottage is a formal garden area with patio and pergolas, lawn and shrub beds opening onto an extensive lawned area.

Call Bartlams on 01902 773322 for more details or to arrange a viewing.

Love in the air at new development

Make the Littleton Green development your perfect match

WITH Valentine's Day just around the corner, national housebuilder Miller Homes is giving Cannock homebuyers even more reasons to fall in love with Littleton Green.

Anyone who reserves a new home at the development before February 14 will be in with a chance of winning a romantic night in for two.

Littleton Green comprises a range of three, four and five bedroom homes including a selection of Miller Homes' most exclusive five-bedroom detached properties. Prices start from £179,950. For more information call 0800 840 8683, visit the development, open daily from 10am to 5pm or visit www.millerhomes.co.uk

Those who make Littleton Green their perfect match and reserve a new home from february 1 to 14 will be entered into a prize draw being run by Miller Homes across the West Midlands. One lucky winner will receive a luxury hamper containing Champagne, chocolates and roses

It's gardening for those romantic forget-me-nots

Topiary created using Bosch's Isio Cordless Shape and Edge, £59.99, at website www.bosch-garden.co.uk

Show your gardening loved one that you care this Valentine's Day by checking out some of the heart-warming gifts which will help put the seeds of romance back into your life

NOT flowers and chocolates again! Surely the way to a green-fingered person's heart on Valentine's Day is to make the most of the great outdoors, do some spectacular planting and wallow in luxury at the end of a hard day's digging.

There's an abundance of romantic gifts for the gardener, from a simple heart-shaped garden ornament to wonderful hampers of luxurious, sweetly scented organic products to wash away the toil of the day.

Think beyond the box of chocolates to items which will bring pleasure for years to come.

Award-winning rose grower David Austin has a stunning container gift rose collection, for instance, which can be ordered to arrive on a specific date. Each rose arrives in a gift box, decorated with a rose print.

Among the gems in the collection is the St Swithun, a beautiful English climbing rose which produces large, saucer-shaped blooms in a romantic shade of pure pink blush, with a strong myrrh fragrance.

The containerised roses come in 6ltr pots (£24.95 including standard delivery, www.davidaustinroses.com or call 01902 376 300).

If your loved one is inspired by other people's gardens, or simply enjoys a romantic day out in the open air, an annual membership to the National Trust is a must. It provides free unlimited visits to all of the 200 Trust gardens across England, Wales and Northern Ireland. Buy gift membership on 0844 800 1895 or at the site www.nationaltrust.org.uk Membership starts at £37.88.

If she's the apple of your eye, buy her a rosy-red Redlove bare root apple tree, excellent for both eating and cooking, which bears red fleshed fruit that has a beautiful pattern running through it and retains its colour when cooking. Exclusive to Suttons, the tree has unusual, long-lasting, deep pink spring blossom. Priced £24.99 from www.suttons.co.uk or 0844 922 0606.

Add a touch of sparkle to your relationship – and your garden – with a twinkly red mosaic heart hanger, made with red-coloured glass shards and frost and weather resistant. It is available in different sizes from gardens2you (from £8.99, at the site www.gardens2you.co.uk, phone 01933 624 084).

If you want a more personalised gift, you can name a pack of rose seeds after your loved one that can grow into a rose bush to cherish forever.

Clock

Simply name your rose and www.gettingpersonal.co.uk will register the name to the unique pack of rose seeds and personalise the certificate, which you will receive with both your chosen name and the unique seed reference number allocated.

It comes presented in a stylish gift tin. (£19.99, from the website www.gettingpersonal.co.uk)

If you're looking for a timely gift, check out Gardman's Hamilton Roman numeral clock, with its romantic heart-shaped metal designs. (£24.99. (Gardman, stockists 01406 372 227).

With more hearts in mind, this delightful heart-shaped plant holder in brown rustic finish will add a touch of romance to any garden. It makes an eye-catching feature planted with cascading geraniums or ivies and can be used as a conservatory planter or outside hanging from a tree. (£22.50, www.simplyaddstyle.com)

For someone you think is hot stuff, you might opt for a gift of a chilli plant to grow in a windowsill container, with delicious Belgian chocolates with a kick of hot chilli. (£9.95, www.giftinspiration.com, phone 01458 270 911)

Alternatively, the same company offers more of a pampering gift for gardeners with its organic weekender gift box filled with organic toiletries including bath oil, soap and a votive candle scented with jasmine and geranium with manuka honey. (£27.95, www.giftinspiration.com, phone 01458 270 911)

Create a romantic mood either inside or outside with a set of coloured glass happy tealights from The Balcony Gardener. Each set contains a silver, blue, pink, purple and yellow glass tealight. Available priced £30, www.thebalconygardener.com, phone 0207 431 5553.

If the present is for an avid birdwatcher, what about a new pair of Magnaloux LC2 8x25 binoculars to admire the feathered friends which come into the garden?

Featuring high-quality lenses for improved performance, they are also waterproof and nitrogen filled, meaning they can even be used in the wet. (£79.99, www.magnaloux.co.uk, phone 0800 978 8314)

If you'd rather display a token of your love artistically, create some heart-shaped topiary of your own using privet or box.

This might involve treating yourself to a suitable topiary trimmer such as the Bosch's Isio Cordless Shape and Edge, a lightweight tool which your loved one can use afterwards. Priced £59.99 at good stockists, www.bosch-garden.co.uk

If you want to make your loved one smile, buy her a novelty red kneeler saying Keep Calm And Carry On Weeding. More suitable for him might be the green version, A Nice Cup Of Tea Please. (Available for £3.95 each, www.dotcomgiftshop.com, phone 020 8746 2473).

Memories are made of this – Volkswagen's classic

FOR SOME, only Mini has come the closest to harnessing the power of 'old' to sell new cars.

By Iain Dooley

Even then some might say that its line-up is more of a caricature than homage to the original small car. Certainly, the modern iteration is no longer small.

Volkswagen, on the other hand, has chosen to look forward in its pursuit of promoting its third generation new Beetle.

More a family car than simple pastiche of the original, it's bigger and more powerful too.

But when a recent opportunity to drive Volkswagen UK's very own classic Beetle came up, it was hard to say no.

It was certainly worth the wait. Originally purchased for the company's press fleet, it's stayed in the family ever since.

A sympathetic restoration programme conducted in recent years has seen the car return to its original silver and chrome glory.

And with a little over 22,000 miles on the clock, the car's interior looks like it could have come straight from the factory.

A no frills 1.2-litre version, this original Beetle is as simple and straightforward as they come, whether it's the engine's modest 34 horsepower or the thin sliver of a key that only works when slotted in the door lock or ignition one particular way.

Still, part of the Beetle's charm is the way it drives. There really is nothing else like it on the road today.

At the car's inception, its rear engine, rear-wheel drive layout was believed to offer the best compromise in terms of packaging, handling and space.

This side of a Porsche you won't find a car with a 'boot' in its nose, while the Beetle's flat-four engine is only trumped by, again, Porsche's range of performance motors.

Turn the key and your ears are met with the Beetle's trademark 'chug-chug-chug' as the engine stumbles into life.

Engage first with the spindly gear lever and you're soon in motion with surprising ease.

Progress isn't rapid but, even when in the company of more modern machines, it's pretty easy to maintain a sensible pace.

Stick to the posted limits and you'll be fine; something that's easy to do thanks to the accurate gearshift and responsive throttle.

Braking is less scary than you might think in a car of this age. Attacking the high-mounted pedal requires a little planning as it does require a hefty push, but the car stops without fuss.

Surprise

What is a surprise is the Beetle's supple ride on urban roads.

More supple and controlled than some modern cars, it's only when you leave the city limits and wind on a bit of speed do you experience a slight lack of straight-line stability. That's the only obvious trade-off for having the engine in the boot - just ask owners of old 911s.

That's never going to be enough to write off the overall experience, though. This particular Beetle is a fine example of what was good about the long-running automotive icon.

More refined than that other car from the swinging Sixties but lacking nothing in terms of character, to many fans this car is fitted with the 'correct' engine and the modest output is no barrier to enjoyment.

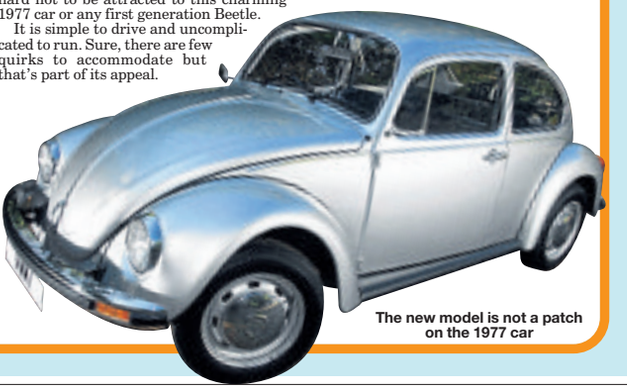
Being realistic for a moment, a brand spanking new 2012 model year Beetle is no match for this old-timer as a day-to-day proposition.

But as a low maintenance classic, it's hard not to be attracted to this charming 1977 car or any first generation Beetle.

It is simple to drive and uncomplicated to run. Sure, there are few quirks to accommodate but that's part of its appeal.

Offering such a rich and tactile experience, it's hard not to have fun.

Let's hope the new car is fit to follow in its footsteps.



The new model is not a patch on the 1977 car

Nissan's new van a versatile performer

The comfortable and well-fitted-out interior of the new Nissan NV200 van

By Sharon Walters

THERE are occasions when only a van will do what you need, and by sheer fortune Nissan provided the latest NV200 for me to test.

It has been sometime since I have driven a van and I was expecting a little more refinement than my previous experience, but I wasn't really prepared for the NV200.

First off, the interior felt very car-like and whilst there is an upright seating position, it was not uncomfortable and after nearly three hours of driving I was pretty impressed that I didn't feel any form of fatigue.

The dashboard is well laid out and I was interested to see that one portion of the dash turns into a reversing camera viewer. Something that, as an occasional van driver, was extremely useful as I needed to manoeuvre around a crowded trading estate.

Storage pods

There were a number of cubby holes and shelves, all 13 of them! There are even storage pods under the seats. These provide all the space needed to store almost everything you can think of.

I am not sure how to describe styling when it comes to a van, but the Nissan looked purposeful. What you get is two sliding side doors, and a twin rear doors which allow easy access to the load area. The sliding doors were extremely useful when I needed to pick up my engine block, as the side I would have loaded from was not available as I needed to park close to another van.

A fellow van driver did comment on this feature and thought it very good, which is high praise indeed from someone that drives a van all day.

Quite low

The load space itself was covered in a rubber-type mat, which whilst it looked good, did feel a little flimsy and would not last long with the sort of abuse you would expect the load space to receive. Also worth a mention is the fact that the floor is quite low so there was no problem with two of us manhandling a 300lb awkward-shaped weight to exactly where we wanted it.

I was a little concerned that the 1.5-litre engine may feel a bit underpowered in a van of this size but frankly it propelled the Nissan quite merrily even fully loaded at motorway speeds with little effort.

The five speed gearbox is matched perfectly to the engine and I found it pretty difficult to get caught out in almost any situation. The best bit is that the overall fuel consumption was over 50mpg, which is remarkable considering the usual constraints of aerodynamics.

Handling

The wheels fitted are 14in, which did give the NV200 the look that they were too small for the body, I was therefore anticipating some handling issues. However, my fears were unfounded and the Nissan could be driven with confidence even fully loaded.

As a non-regular van driver I have to say that I found myself finding jobs that I could use it for. I really enjoyed my time driving the NV200 and there are not that many vans I can think of where you can say that!

The load area in the rear of the Nissan NV200

Driving force – the Lexus CT 200h sold 4,220 units in the United Kingdom last year

Lexus celebrates sales success with CT 200h

LEXUS celebrated a successful 2011, after full year sales figures confirmed the premium marque to have the fastest sales growth of any mainstream manufacturer in the UK.

Lexus recorded 8,269 vehicle sales in 2011, a year on year growth of 33.3 per cent.

The success of Lexus in 2011 has been due to the great reception of the new CT 200h, the first full hybrid compact premium hatchback in the market. CT 200h achieved sales of 4,220 vehicles in 2011.

Customers

CT 200h has achieved great success in bringing new customers to Lexus, with two in every three new owners trading in cars from other brands.

Richard Balshaw, Lexus UK Director said, "2011 was a great year for Lexus in the UK. CT 200h has made Lexus accessible to more customers. This result is all the more remarkable considering the significant supply disruption we experienced through the year as a result of the Japanese tsunami."

Balshaw sees further positives to come for the brand: "2011 is just the first step in the growth of Lexus. Along with the first full year of CT 200h, 2012 will see the launch of the all new Lexus GS 450h.

"With its bold design, dynamic drive and luxurious interior, all new GS is set to be the next success story for Lexus in the UK."

HENSLEY
Lavinia
Mom

A face is from the household gone, a voice we loved is stilled, a chair is vacant in our home, which can be never filled.

We'll miss you Mom and always will.

Love, Robert and Eve.

Mom

Tears drop slow and steady, the pain is real and true, God took another angel, that angel Mom was you.

Love and miss you.

Christine and Steve.

Mom

It's hard to believe you're gone, we won't see your smiling face again or hear the sound of your laughter.

We have so many precious memories, now rest easy Mom, you live in our hearts forever.

Andy and Julie, Kevin and Michael.

Mom

It broke our hearts to lose you but you didn't go alone, for part of us went with you the day God called you home.

We'll think about you always, nothing seems the same but our heavy hearts are lifted, knowing you are in Dad's arms again.

God bless.

Love, Malcolm and Anita.

XXX

Nan

A heart of gold stopped beating, two shining eyes at rest, God broke our hearts to prove, He only takes the best.

With all our love Nan.

Stuart, Russell, Roisha and Anthony.

Nan and Great-Nan

God saw you getting weary, a cure was not to be, so He put His arms around you and whispered come to rest.

Love always.

Paul, Vicky and the Babies.

Nan and Great-Nan

It broke our hearts to lose you but you did not go alone, for part of us went with you the day God called you home.

Love always.

Scott, Heli and Girls.

XX

Nanny

Gentle Jesus up above, give our Nanny Min all our love, help her watch over us as we grow, for while on earth she loved us so.

Love forever.

Cameron and Joshua.

XXX

HENSLEY
Lavinia May

Your end was very sudden, it made us grieve and cry, the saddest part of all, dear, we never said goodbye.

Love, Eric, Angela, Wayne, Dea and Great-Grandson Jake.

XXX

In Memoriam

BROUGH
Stanley Geoffrey

February 14, 2006.

Sometimes it seems a lifetime, sometimes just a day but in our hearts and minds you are never far away.

Losing you brought sorrow that does not always show but only those who loved you can ever really know.

God bless.

Your loving Wife Grace and Family.

XXX

REYNOLDS
Elayne

Taken Thursday, February 8, 1996.

For 16 years we've borne the pain of your cruel and senseless loss. Time will never heal it. Your legacy lives on in so many ways, especially in the memories of those who knew the wonderful person you were.

Always in our thoughts and prayers.

Danielle, Alysha, Mom, Dad and Evie.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:
1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with it's Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.
Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

Site and Building Supervisor

Salary: Grade 8: (£23,708 - £27,849)
37 hours per week

Required from April 2012.

Kingsmead is a popular and successful 11-18 technology college of approximately 1300 students.

We are looking for an enthusiastic Site and Building Supervisor to take responsibility for the provision of efficient and effective caretaking support for the College. You will be expected to observe safe working practices in carrying out the required duties and ensure that instructions specified by technical consultants, contractors and manufacturers with regard to Health & Safety are adhered to.

Further information and an application form are available online at www.ktconline.org.uk or by contacting the college.

Closing date: Friday 2nd March 2012.

This college is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people/vulnerable adults and expect all staff and volunteers to share this commitment.

This position is subject to an Enhanced Disclosure check under the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974. Further details regarding this check are available from the college or by visiting www.crb.gov.uk

Staffordshire County Council

STAFFORDSHIRE COUNTY COUNCIL

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 (AS AMENDED)
ROAD TRAFFIC (TEMPORARY RESTRICTIONS) ACT 1991

Johnson Road, Cannock
Diversion of Vehicular Traffic

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Staffordshire County Council intend, not less than seven days from the date of this Notice, to make an Order the effect of which will be to prohibit any vehicle from proceeding in that length of Johnson Road, Cannock in the vicinity of property numbers 53 and 55 unless the vehicle is being used in connection with the works. Limited vehicular access will be available dependent upon the works, but through access will not be permitted, pedestrian access will be maintained.

The preferred alternative route for traffic will be available via Johnson Road, Boswell Road, Lansbury Drive and vice versa.

THE ORDER WILL COME INTO OPERATION ON THURSDAY 1 MARCH 2012, AND THE SAID WORKS WILL COMMENCE ON OR AS NEAR AS PRACTICABLE TO THAT DATE. IT IS ANTICIPATED THAT THE WORKS WILL BE COMPLETED BY TUESDAY 1 MAY 2012.

The Order will remain in force for a period of 18 months or until the repair works to cracks under the highway, which it is proposed to carry out on or near the road, have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Date: 9 February 2012.

John Tradewell, Director of Law and Democracy, No. 1 Staffordshire Place, Tipping Street, Stafford ST16 2LP.

1. Staffordshire County on 07 February 2012 made a Traffic Order under Sections 1, 2, 4, 32, 35, 45, 46, 47, 49, 53, 124 (1)(d) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, and the Traffic Management Act 2004 which:
   (a) removes existing No Waiting At Any Time on the following length of road:
   John Street, Chadsmoor (Cannock) (north east side) – from a point approximately 217 metres north west of the junction with Cannock Road in a south easterly direction for a distance of approximately 48 metres.
   John Street, Chadsmoor (Cannock) (south west side) – from a point approximately 15 metres north west of its north western kerbline with Datteln Road in a north westerly direction for a distance of approximately 23 metres.
2. This Order amends the Staffordshire County Council (Cannock Chase) (Civil Enforcement of Parking) (Prohibition and Restriction of Waiting and Loading and Parking Places) (Conversion) Order 2009.
3. This Order is called the Staffordshire County Council (Cannock Chase) (Civil Enforcement of Parking) (Prohibition and Restriction of Waiting and Loading and Parking Places) (Conversion) Order 2009 (Amendment) No. 10/2012.
4. This Order amends the Plan marked BK 234 incorporating waiting restrictions on that road specified in Article No. 1 above and which form part of the Staffordshire County Council (Cannock Chase) (Civil Enforcement of Parking) (Prohibition and Restriction of Waiting and Loading and Parking Places) (Conversion) Order 2009 and in substitution thereof.
5. Full details of the Order, together with a map showing the road involved, may be examined during normal office hours at the office of the Deputy Chief Executive & Director for Place, 1 Staffordshire Place, Tipping Street, Stafford, ST16 2LP; and during normal opening hours at Cannock Library, Manor Avenue, Cannock.
6. Any person who desires to question the validity of the Order or any provision contained in the Order on the grounds that it is not within the powers of the relevant sections of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 or on the grounds that any requirement of those sections or of Parts I, II, and III of Schedule 9 of the Act or any regulations made under the said Part III of Schedule 9 of the Act has not been complied with in relation to the Order, may, within six weeks of the date on which the Order was made, make an application for the purpose to the High Court.
7. The Order will come into operation on 16 February 2012.

Date 9 February 2012.

John Tradewell, Director of Law and Democracy,
1 Staffordshire Place, Tipping Street, Stafford ST16 2LP.

Athletes' backing proves to be Bliss

YOUNG athletes in Walsall are gearing up for Olympics year in style in their new kit.

Bliss Yoga and Relaxation, set up by Willenhall part-time teacher Michelle Nicklin, is sponsoring Walsall Junior Athletics Club.

Michelle decided to fund the £300 shirts after her daughter Ruby, aged 10, joined the club.

The club trains at Wolverhampton University's Walsall campus, off Gorway Road.

It meets on Saturdays at 10am.

"Through Bliss I already work with young people in schools," said Michelle.

"So when I found out that the youngsters needed a new kit I was delighted to help.

"My daughter loves athletics and it's great that young boys and girls in Walsall can be involved at an early age in a society where kids tend to rely on TV and computer games," she added.

For more details, call Bliss Yoga on 0791 015 8275 or Walsall Junior Athletics Club on 01902 605500.

Xtreme conditions tackled

MORE than 200 brave runners tackled the snow and ice of the Xtreme Challenge at the Catton Hall Estate near Alrewas.

Arctic conditions caused by up to three inches of snow served only to encourage more effort and bravado from those who took part on Sunday.

The course, an approximate 10km in length, consisted of a two-lap circuit of the estate grounds and was made up of steep gradients, deadly drops, man-made obstacles, tunnels, 12ft-high hay bales – and icy water.

Initially some runners were able to slide across the ice but, as temperatures rose, others had to wade through up to their chests. First person home was Uttoxeter Road Runners athlete Robert Hall, second last year but now triumphant is a time of 39minutes 15seconds, the only sub 40-minute runner in the field.

He was chased home by Alistair Gorrie who finished in 40.29 with Jacob Fry coming in third in 41.21.

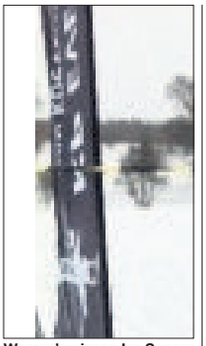
First of the many women taking part was Stafford Triathlon Club's Jen Seager, who clocked 50.49 to finish in front of Hallamshire Harriers' Emily Morton in 52.46 with Joanna Rooney third in 53.24.

Kevin Wilson of organisers KP Events from Lichfield was delighted with such a good turnout on what was a bitterly cold and snowy morning.

"On the Saturday night before, as the blizzard raged, we thought: Did we want to postpone it?" he said. "But people were calling, texting, emailing us and everyone said to carry on with it if we could.

"It was after all an Xtreme event – and boy, the challenge was Xtreme indeed. We are seriously looking at another similar but even more extreme event at the same venue."

KP Events' next event is the Florette Fradley 10k on March 11 at 10.30am. More information on 07947 698147 or register at www.kpevents.net



Women's winner Jen Seager

Under-18s just fail in chase for indoor title

CANNOCK's Under-18 hockey side went close to lifting the national indoor title at Whitgift School, Croydon.

They had qualified as Midlands champions and managed to get through a tough group in the finals.

But a fresher Wycombe side pipped them in the last four and went on to win the title by beating Havent on penalty strokes after the final finished 2-2.

Cannock began with a 5-2 defeat against Exeter-based Isca, whose goalkeeper showed excellent form.

At three down in the second half, Cannock sacrificed goalkeeper Jack Hitchens for another outfield player.

Goals from Tom Morris and Jack Middleton were sandwiched by another Isca goal before a late yellow card for Morris saw Cannock reduced to five men and Isca score their fifth.

Cannock then beat Doncaster 7-0.

Due to a kit technicality Chris Darnley had to be substituted and within 30 seconds of taking the pitch, unmarked replacement George Southall scored.

Arjan Drayton-Chana added another in the closing moments before five goals in the second period.

Cannock then beat Havant 4-1 with two goals apiece for Morris and Drayton-Chana.

They went into their final group game against City of Peterborough, who went ahead but Morris equalised with a penalty stroke before the break. In the second period Peterborough led again before Drayton-Chana equalised.

Cannock Hockey Club

The buzzer sounded to make a Cannock penalty corner the last play of the game. The nerveless Drayton-Chana fired home for the win.

In the last four Cannock met Wycombe, who had played one game fewer games in coming through a smaller pool.

The fresher Wycombe forced three good chances all saved by Hitchins.

A penalty corner then brought a superb waist-high stop by Jack Childs to keep the game goalless.

Cannock countered and Drayton-Chana, beating two defenders, saw the keeper save his shot only for the ball to go loose to Matt Jarocki who gave Cannock the lead.

Jack Middleton shot a second-half penalty wide.

Wycombe levelled from a short corner and then went ahead with two minutes left. A late penalty corner was Cannock's last chance but the keeper smothered it.

Snow takes its toll as hockey games are called off

CANNOCK firsts warmed up for the second half of their league campaign with a 3-1 friendly home win against Loughborough.

Next up at Chase Park on Saturday were Cannock fifths as they entertained Streetley. Unfortunately for both teams, just as referee Vic De Costa's whistle blew for the start of the game, snow began to fall.

After about 15 minutes the whole pitch was white and no lines could be seen at all.

Cannock led through goals from Don Clark and Gary Stacey but the game was abandoned. The weather saw all other weekend club games called off.

The firsts and Under-18s must now find new dates for their important cup matches against Beeston and Bridgnorth respectively.

Welborn prepares for title defence

DUDLEY boxer Jason Welborn will take centre stage as Wolverhampton Civic Hall stages its second professional boxing show in as many months in March.

After Saturday's Prizefighter show, area champion Jason Welborn will make a first defence of his Midlands welterweight crown against Coventry's James Flinn on March 23.

Welborn unseated Coventry's Sean McKervey in just two rounds for the title at Walsall Town Hall in November and puts his power against Flinn's skill.

The two-time British Masters champion has just one defeat on a 12-fight pro record, an English title loss against Adil Anwar last time out in November.

Anwar will now be a part of Prizefighter but Flinn is also heading to the Civic, as he looks to get his career back on track.

The main event is one of two title fights on the card, as Tipton's Lee Glover and Ian Bailey go for the vacant British Masters super bantamweight belt.

Two six-rounders are also on the bill as former English lightweight champion Martin Gethin and Birmingham's Thomas Costello face international opposition.

Joining them are dynamic Dudley featherweights Dean Anderson and Zak the Ripper – real name Saquib Amir.

Hard-hitting Stafford middleweight Grant Cunningham, Stourbridge's Steven Pearce and Brierley Hill's Karl Spencer make up the rest of the card.

For tickets, call the box office on 0870 320 7000.

Parkes wins two in tight finish

CHESLYN HAY A had an excellent 5-5 draw with Wyrley B in Division One of the Walsall Table-Tennis League.

Nigel Smith and Jeff Parkes won two matches each, with Tom Murray and Jay Shah doing the same for Wyrley B.

Ryan Fellows and Stephen Ward starred for Wood Green B in an 8-2 win against the club's A side for which Paul Warrollow won two, having done the same against Vic Park B in a 5-5 result.

Gary Powell won two for bottom-placed Wood Green C as they lost to a Colin Hammond inspired Wyrley A 6-4.

Saddlers get twin boost on fitness

WALSALL have been handed a double boost after it was revealed that Jimmy Walker and Jon Macken could return for the crunch clash with League One relegation rivals Wycombe on February 18.

Scans revealed that six-goal striker Macken and goalkeeper Walker have grade one hamstring strains.

But boss Dean Smith is confident that the key pair can return quickly for the Chairboys' visit a week on Saturday.

They were injured in last week's 1-0 defeat to Notts County to compound the Saddlers' struggles as they bid to avoid relegation from League One.

Swift

Initial diagnosis was that the pair would be out for up to two weeks and Smith indicated they are likely to make a swift return.

He said: "Their injuries are both only grade one so they won't be out long-term.

"It's good news, they are not too serious and they could be back in a couple of weeks.

"Sometimes these injuries can be up to four to six weeks, so it's really good," he added. "It certainly benefited those two that the Scunthorpe game was off on Saturday."

The pair are out of this Saturday's League One visit of Colchester with the Saddlers now in the bottom four.

Walsall's League One trip to Scunthorpe has been rearranged for Tuesday, February 21. The game at Glanford Park was called off on Saturday due to a frozen pitch

Hayes progress to second round

HEATH HAYES progressed to the second round of the JW Hunt Cup – without kicking a ball in the third attempt to stage the tie.

The first game against Newport Town was abandoned through floodlight failure; the second was postponed, while Town were unable to field a side for the third scheduled meeting.

Heath Hayes now play Continental Star for a place in the quarter-finals against holders AFC Wulfrunians.

The competition's proceeds go to the Beacon Centre for the Blind.

Other ties: Willenhall Town v Cadbury Athletic, Dudley Town v Black Country Rangers, Tividale v Penncroft.

Wheelers cyclists Jess Ansell and Adam Lewis

Two spark wheel Revolution

TWO young cyclists from Wolverhampton Wheelers have sparked a Revolution.

Jess Ansell and Adam Lewis competed in the Revolution series at Manchester Velodrome.

The track event takes place over four meetings and for Ansell (Under-16 girls) and Lewis (Juniors) is the graduation level just before moving into the international arena.

Riders on the starting line-up included Mark Cavendish, Sir Chris Hoy, Team Sky riders and Olympic hopefuls Jason Kenny and Matt Crampton and a host of others.

The Wheelers pair were chosen by British Cycling because of their achievements over the past 12 months, on and off the track. Both riders were selected for the Cunga Pro Cycling team.

Ansell is enjoying a successful year, having received coaching from the Olympic Development squad.

Her selection was a notable feat – while women are still under-represented in the sport, competition in her age group is particularly fierce. Wheelers' John Ireson said: "For Jess to have been chosen shows her prodigious talent which BC want to nurture and develop. She is certainly a rider to watch in the future.

"Adam Lewis has ridden in this event before; this year he has had his best ever series coming fifth overall, beating the finest riders in his age group in not only this country but in Europe.

"Adam is a rider that is certainly going places within cycling."

PITMEN BOSS HAS SIX-POINT TARGET

HEDNESFORD manager Rob Smith has targeted back-to-back wins in the next two games to put the pressure on Evo-Stik Northern Premier League leaders Chester.

The second-placed Pitmen, along with the table-toppers, were ruled out of action due to the weather last week with Smith's men missing out on games against Northwich and Burscough, writes Craig Birch.

But Chester still have two games in hand over their nearest rivals and the Hednesford boss is looking to close the gap by getting six quick points on the board.

North Ferriby United and Marine visit Keys Park on successive Saturdays, with United up first. Three points separate the top two going into play.

The Pitmen could even get a helping hand from local rivals Stafford Rangers, who go to Chester this weekend, but Smith has urged his side to do their bit.

He said: "We have trained throughout the bad weather and it has been nice to get some time on the training pitch after so many games.

Relief

"Anyone can beat anyone in this league and North Ferriby will be a tough test, especially with the likes of Gary Bradshaw and Wayne Brooksby in their squad."

An extended stay playing back at Keys Park will come as a welcome relief for Smith and his men after five successive away games in January.

The Pitmen boss also has defender Jermaine Johnson and Michael Ricketts waiting on home debuts, after they made their bow in the defeat at FC United of Manchester.

Johnson had been playing full-time in the Welsh Premier League this season, for the New Saints, before being released. And Smith has earmarked the former Stafford Rangers stopper as a key member of the squad for the rest of the season.

He said: "With the signing of Jermaine to bolster our defence, I have every faith in my players.

"I am fully confident that my squad will be involved in the promotion shake-up at the end of the season.

"We would have preferred to play straight after the FC United game to get back to winning ways.

"But we have the ability to beat any side on our day," he added.

Snow joke for the Xtremely serious runners

The Xtreme Challenge race at Catton Hall near Alrewas is tough enough as it stands, with steep gradients, obstacles, tunnels and plenty of water to wade through. But Sunday's event took on a new dimension when the weather turned nasty with three inches of snow to battle against. Report and more pictures: Page 91

Jamie Beech is chasing an ABA national title

A double nut to crack for Beech

WALSALL'S James Beech made it through to the quarter-finals of the ABA Schoolboys national championships – after nearly having his Midlands title ripped away from him.

The Pleck ABC amateur had to box for a second time last Friday to make the pre-quarters on the Sunday afternoon, after a complaint.

Birmingham City ABC put in the complaint after the computer scoring – used to judge punches landed – malfunctioned in the final round of Beech's fight with Khizer Ali the previous Sunday.

The ABA ordered a rematch, despite Beech winning the first two rounds.

But when they stepped back into the ring on Friday the result was the same – a unanimous points decision in favour of Beech.

Less than 48 hours later, he was at the Manchester Boxing Centre of Excellence to represent the Midlands Counties against the North West Region.

The Brownhills Comprehensive School was up against Chorley ABC's Matthew Walton in Class Three – boxers born in 1997 – at 48kg.

Beech recorded a comfortable 13-3 win over the distance to give him a deserved spot in the next phase of the tournament this weekend.
